Lucan Lighting Scheme

The Celbridge Road in Lucan in recent years has become a busier road that serves new housing estates and has increased car and pedestrian movements.

In recognition of this and with the aim of improving safety for those people using this road, the team have installed eighteen new public LED lighting columns along the road and this has already made a big improvement in this area.

Public lighting is key to South Dublin County Council achieving its energy efficiency target detailed in the Council's Climate Change Action Plan.

The Council is committed to achieving further energy reductions in this area.

Development Management

2019 was one of the busiest years yet for the Council's Development Management team. The Planning Authority received approximately 950 planning applications for determination and received over 1,000 planning enforcement complaints. All of these applications and complaints are assessed by a team of planning, technician and administrative staff in the Council.

D12 Bike Bus

The D12 Bike Bus has set the wheels in motion for a more sustainable commute through South Dublin. The Bike Bus, the first of its kind in South Dublin, took place from 7.30 am on Friday 12 December.

The D12 Bike Bus is currently made up of parent volunteers from the school community who enable their children to cycle safely to school on the road, along a set route, and on a set timetable, every Friday morning. The volunteers act as a sort of mobile, protected bike lane for these children.

The Galway Cycle Bus was the inspiration behind the setting up of the Bike Bus and after many weeks trialling different routes and refining down the timetable the parents, and children, are ready to officially launch their Bike Bus.

The aim to the launch is primarily to celebrate their hard work to date; to help raise awareness of their presence on the road and to encourage other parents, or cycling volunteers, to get involved and support the D12 Bike Bus or set up their own Bike Bus

Templeogue Village

There has been a lot of collaboration between the Council, local Councillors and the Templeogue Tidy Town team over the last number of months on the Templeogue Village Renewal Works.

This collaboration has helped to finalise the detailed design of the project, which will be going out to tender for a contractor early in 2020 with an estimated cost of approximately €1.2 million.

Ahead of the big works that will take place in 2020 the team have agreed on the design and have installed a new heritage sign at the entrance to the village.

Inclusive Playspaces Seminar and Launch of Video

The Mayor of South Dublin County Council, Cllr Vikki Casserly opened a seminar on inclusive playspaces at the County Hall. The seminar was hosted by SDCC to disseminate information and knowledge about universal design gained over the past five years during the roll out of SDCC's playspace programme.

The playspace programme is developing accessible, inclusive playspaces for children of all abilities. Local Authorities have a variety of policy and legislative responsibilities to provide accessible facilities and services to all disabled people (the Disability Act 2005, UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities etc.). In order to meet these responsibilities and commitments South Dublin County Council developed a playspace design programme with accessibility as a core aim.

The seminar was targeted at Public Realm designers, parks staff, planners, and any others who has a role, or interest, in providing inclusive playspaces and developing healthy, sustainable communities and was well attended.

A video showcasing Inclusive Playspaces across South Dublin County was premiered during the seminar and is available to view on the Council's YouTube page.

Electric Vans - 1 Year On

The introduction of Electric Vehicles (EVs) was piloted in 2019 to test the feasibility of using electricity as a power source for our fleet rather than fossil fuels.

Since then, the Council's five EVs have travelled approximately 26,000 km and with no reports of running out of power!

Estimated cost savings by using electricity instead of diesel is around €2,000. In terms of CO2 savings, it is estimated that equivalent vans running diesel engines would have produced 3.5 tonnes of CO2 in order to travel a similar distance.

The Council's Electric Van fleet was rolled out one year ago

County Hall, Tallaght

The Council has a key role to play in promoting and supporting the health and wellbeing of individuals and communities. We do this through initiatives and programmes that make positive and practical changes to health and behaviour.

The Healthy South Dublin Strategy 2019-2022, developed by the South Dublin Health County Committee together with the Local Community Development Committee and the Children's and Young Peoples Services Committee identifies actions for the specific themes in the National Healthy Ireland Strategy: Healthy Weight, Physical Activity, Mental Health & Wellbeing, Sexual Health, Alcohol and Tobacco.

This provides a roadmap for improving health in South Dublin County and is the strategic framework to support our corporate objective to "lead a healthy, active and participative County" and deliver on the Local Economic and Community Plan goal to "empower our Communities to improve their health and wellbeing and quality of life".

The Council promotes health and wellbeing for the community across our services and functions and leads the Healthy County Committee's oversight of interagency projects. Our annual Health and Wellbeing Week, which attracted 10,000 participants in 2019 in 2019 highlights the work we do in this area.

Our Sports Partnership and Sports and Recreation teams focus on a wide range of sports activities for all as well promoting physical literacy and the benefits of physical activity. This is underpinned by the range of sports, leisure and recreational facilities provided by the Council throughout the County, the latest of which will be the new swimming pool at Lucan that is currently under construction.

Healthy communities are connected and engaged. We provide multiple supports and funding opportunities for community participation to complement the expanding range of community centres that are a focal point for groups as well as hosting many health programmes and events.

A range of community health projects are supported by the Council to deliver health interventions and improvements, particularly in our most disadvantaged areas. Coupled with our social inclusion work, including through the delivery of the Social Inclusion Community Activation Programme, we work to engage and support marginalised individuals and groups to improve health awareness and education.

Older persons' health and wellbeing initiatives will be further developed with a new County Age-Friendly Strategy this year, in line with South Dublin's membership of the WHO Global Network for Age-friendly Cities and Communities.

In addition, funding under the Healthy Ireland programme 2019-2021 in South Dublin will support the Social Prescribing Project; a pilot Community Alcohol Programme, a Physical Activity Challenge, a Primary Schools Sports Coaching Programme, mental health/suicide prevention work and Community Mental Health Fund projects.
