ECO WEEK

Recyclable Seed Paper Workshop

Monday 15th April at 10.30am

In this workshop for adults, we'll be making handmade paper using recycled paper pulp and wildflower seeds. We'll be using a traditional paper making technique and every participant will get a chance to make their own sheets of seed paper which they can take away to dry at home, as well as some pre-dried seed paper which we will use to make stamped gift bags.

Booking open 1st April on Eventbrite

Book Swap

Saturday 20th April, 2pm-3pm

Books can be dropped at desk and tokens collected from Thursday 18th. All genres welcome and adults or children's titles welcome.

Up to 5 titles per person can be swapped and 5 tokens will be given in exchange. Tokens can then be swapped for 5 other books on Saturday 20th from 2-3pm. Books should be in good condition. We will recycle any not swapped.

Booking open 28th March on Eventbrite

Wednesday 24th April @ 6.30pm

Our history often hides in plain sight. We travel roads, pass laneways and street-signs without appreciating the events that may have happened here in the past. A photograph found in an archive illustrated just this, as Historian in Residence, Cathy Scuffil investigated the background to the image, taken in the Crumlin area of Dublin just over a century ago. Join Cathy as she explains her findings and reveals the fascinating story behind the image and the links to local, national and international events.

Booking from 2nd April on Eventbrite
