Message from the Mayor

It gives me great pleasure to present the South Dublin County Council Annual Report, on behalf of my fellow Councillors. The last twelve months have been very challenging and when elected Mayor in 2010, I wanted to concentrate on job creation and promoting South Dublin County as a prime location for new industry. South Dublin County Council is one of the most progressive Councils in Ireland and during my term in office, I aimed to promote South Dublin as a vibrant, dynamic and innovative place. I believe through collaborative working with our partner agencies at national and local level we can raise the County's profile regionally, nationally and internationally to attract inward investment.

On a personal note, I have had a very busy and interesting year as Mayor and have been privileged to meet so many inspiring people; most importantly this year has confirmed my belief in the tremendous community spirit we have here in South Dublin County. Those who actively participate in their community make a very important contribution to the places where they live. I am delighted that in 2010, the Council introduced a Social Credit Scheme to reward community groups who improve their environment by carrying out pro-environmental actions such as litter cleanups, maintenance of community gardens and removal of graffiti. The system provides practical assistance and advice to groups who undertake these actions and rewards them for their efforts.

I was very pleased to attend so many wonderful events organised by the Council during my term, including highlights such as the Christmas Unwrapped Event, Engineers Week, Social Inclusion Week, Innovation Dublin and the Civic Receptions for members of Shamrock Rovers Football Club and Dublin Ladies Gaelic Team.

In particular I would like to mention the many wonderful events that are organised by South Dublin Library Services. The Library Service offer all citizens of the County a gateway to learning, study, information, literacy and the history and heritage of our County.

I would like to end by thanking my fellow Councillors, County Manager and the staff of South Dublin County Council for their continuing support during my term as Mayor.

Councillor Eamonn Maloney
Mayor of South Dublin County Council

Message from the County Manager

The Annual Report 2010 sets out South Dublin County Council's achievements over the past twelve months, and highlights our performance against the priorities set out in our new Corporate Plan 2010-2014 and South Dublin County Development Plan 2010-2016.

These are very challenging times across the whole local government sector with the ever increasing need to achieve significant savings and greater efficiencies.

A number of initiatives to reduce costs have been instigated by this local authority, including a 10% reduction in staff between mid-2008 and 2010. The reduction in numbers over the last two years has resulted in increased productivity, revised work practices and other major change initiatives that are essential to mitigate against any impact on priority frontline services. More must be achieved by fewer staff with smaller budgets.

Despite these challenges, the elected members, management and staff are working together to achieve more effective and citizen focused services. There have been many success stories and throughout this document you will see that there were many highlights in 2010:

- Rua Red Arts Centre won three awards including the Grand Prix at the LAMA Awards 2010
- Innovation Dublin Week (Ted- Ex Tallaght Event)
- Opening of the Grand Canal, Green Route
- Introduction of the new Brown Bin Waste System
- Opening of Ballyroan Youth and Community Centre and Neilstown Centre
- Social Media Workshops
- Launch of Bulbs not Bonfires Campaign and Social Credit Scheme
- Halloween Spooky Walk, Un -Wrapped and Christmas Wonderland Events
- Link2BActive won an Excellence in Government Award at the Chambers Ireland Awards 2010
- Tallaght Stadium won the Airtricity League Pitch of the Year 2010

The Council has been conscious of the difficulties that local businesses and residents are facing in the current economic climate. Looking forward to 2011, the Council's main focus will be on developing the new and innovative Business Support Initiative. This interagency initiative includes actions aimed at infrastructure improvements, incentivisation, mentoring, work placements, environmental sustainability and a Creative Village/Year of Craft project for 2011.

Finally, I would like to acknowledge the contribution made by former Mayor Duff and Mayor Maloney, the elected members, the management and staff of South Dublin County Council for their valuable contribution during 2010. The Council faced extreme weather conditions in the early part of the year and again in November/December. I would like to acknowledge the efforts of all staff in dealing with the impact of the weather on our roads, footpaths and water supplies. In particular we would like to highlight the co-operation of a number of departments in tackling the issues arising from these exceptional circumstances in such a collaborative manner. It was a difficult time, but we can be proud of the way the staff from South Dublin County Council responded.

Think Local 2010 helps create and develop community awareness of the advantages and benefits of supporting local businesses and community facilities.

Interagency Group for Traveller Services

South Dublin County Traveller Interagency Group met on five occasions in 2010. The Strategy is divided into nine actions and each of these nine actions is progressed by a lead agency. The CDB Executive organised an interagency debate around the subject of employment and the Travelling community. Interagency meetings for frontline staff were held quarterly.

In the summer of 2010 the CDB on behalf of the inter-agency group reviewed the current strategy and produced a new document which will ensure greater cooperation and inter-agency cooperation in the delivery of services to Travellers.

South Dublin County Joint Policing Committee

South Dublin County's Joint Policing Committee is a forum where the Local Authority and the senior Garda officers, Oireachtas members and community interests meet, consult, discuss and make recommendations on matters affecting community policing and community safety. The Committee met 4 times in 2010. A subgroup was set up to look at safety in our public parks and a report entitled 'Reclaiming our Parks' was produced and the recommendations will now be implemented where appropriate by the various agencies involved.

The JPC support the SDCC/FAI - Late-night leagues which use football as a tool for the prevention of anti-social behaviour. Crime Rates/ Statistics in South Dublin County Administrative area are circulated.

CCTV Schemes are now operating and monitored in areas of South Dublin County.

Three Local Policing Fora are now in place, meeting regularly and holding public meetings which allow residents to voice issues of local concern.

Community Safety and Anti Social Behaviour

3 local policing fora have been established, 2 in Clondalkin and 1 in West Tallaght. Management Committees have been established and several public meetings have been held.

The Community CCTV schemes in West Tallaght are now being monitored in Tallaght Garda station resulting in numerous successful detections. Monitoring of the North Clondalkin Scheme through Ronanstown Garda Station is also being progressed.

The Project has recently received funding from the Young Ensembles to assist the groups to form into ONE integrated youth arts group.

It establishes a model of sustainability that champions the leadership of (integrated) young people in their own arts projects that can be tested out for similar groups. Funding wise and impact wise, this is one of our most significant collaborations between, agencies, artists

It engages with youth and community services around the county (including the Noise project), and it collaborates with local artists, who are eager to record their work. As well as commercial and subsidised recording terms, the studio also operates a social credits system.

SOUTH DUBLIN COUNTY SPORTS PARTNERSHIP

2010 saw the continued roll out of the Buntús programmes where training and equipment was provided to crèches and primary schools to help teachers and leaders in their efforts to get children physically active.

Other activities assisted by the Sports Partnership included the development of activity programmes targeting Travellers and Women. The provision of soft play equipment for toddlers in Killinarden and Jobstown community centres and support for school activities and equipment for secondary schools in West Tallaght. On top of that SDCSP provided approximately €18,000 in local grant assistance to local sports clubs and community groups to help them in their efforts to promote increased participation in sport and physical recreation.

SDCSP partnered with the other 3 Dublin Sports Partnerships (Fingal, Dún Laoghaire Rathdown & Dublin City) to jointly organize a club development seminar in the new Aviva Stadium. Over 200 delegates from over 100 clubs and 31 different sports attended the seminar which featured expert presentations on garda vetting, fundraising, committee structures and how to identify and partner with other agencies for common goals. A comprehensive training programme took place for coaches, mentors, teachers, youth leaders and more in areas such as child protection, managing challenging behaviour, disability awareness, diet and sport specific ones such as Olympic handball, dance etc.

A new orienteering site was installed in Corkagh Park where groups or individuals can discover what the park has to offer while taking part on any of the 3 distances marked out.

The Link 2B Active programme launched in South Dublin County in 2009 which seeks to get reduced rates in local leisure facilities for people out of work became very successful in 2010. By the end of the year over 1,500 people were participating on the programme, the Irish Sports Council had decided to support its national rollout and the programme was nominated for 2 national awards (Chambers of Commerce Ireland for Excellence in Local Government and the Irish Healthcare Awards for Best Public Health Initiative).

The Sports Partnership's Strategic Plan 2010-2016 was launched by the Chief Executive of the ISC John Treacy and the Mayor Eamon Moloney in the presence of the Council's Strategic Policy Committee for Sport and Recreation.

SDCSP gave presentations to SPHE classes from a number of secondary schools on the importance of and benefits of sports participation. It also assisted SDCC with events such as Bike Week, National Recreation Week and Bealtaine.

A forum for private and publicly owned facilities was hosted by the Sports Partnership so that issues can be learned on what may be affecting participation in them, how the Sports Partnership can be of assistance and how greater all round partnership between different parties can be promoted. It is planned that this forum will be continued with a number of meetings annually.

The 2nd Amateur Sports Award sponsored by SDCSP in partnership with the Echo Newspaper and the Louis Fitzgerald Hotel were held in December and this event is now becoming a highlight in the sports communities agenda. New to the event this year was the Hall of Fame awards won by Palmerston native Ollie Kelly a former national and European cycling champion and Gerry O'Toole a former Dublin GAA footballer and Thomas Davis clubman.

Libraries

South Dublin Libraries offer all citizens of the County a gateway to learning, study, information, literacy and the history and heritage of the County. Libraries act as catalysts for the development of social and intellectual capital across the myriad of communities which make up South Dublin. The innovative use of technologies gives access to the ever expanding digital world from www.southdublinlibraries.ie and the strong customer service ethos of the library service has been recognised and rewarded nationally during 2010.

Since 2008 the usage of libraries across the County has risen exponentially and continues to grow with computer usage up 60%, visitor numbers up 28% and loans up by 20%. This significant increase has been managed within existing staff levels by the implementation of streamlined business processes and through the delivery of a state of the art website. During 2010 over two million hits were recorded on the site with a significant number of these centred on digital books, business information services and web pages for students and younger children.

An Innovative and Creative Service

In 2010 South Dublin Libraries delivered Ireland's first digital library archive using open source software. This archive, entitled Source, <http://source.southdublinlibraries.ie> offers collections including audio, books, ephemera, exhibitions, historic maps, newspapers, pamphlets and photographs of South Dublin dating back through centuries. Members of the public can also submit material for inclusion in this archive which is unique amongst local authorities and provides free access to a wealth of material for study and investigation.

Library Online Anytime

During 2010 South Dublin Libraries became the first Irish public library service to offer customers 'anywhere anytime' registration from the library website. The introduction of paperless online registration results in instant access to online resources such as Encyclopaedia Britannica and Credo Reference Services both of which are heavily used by primary and post primary students for homework support.

Capsule Library for Traveller Families at Lynch's Park

South Dublin Libraries, working in conjunction with Clondalkin Travellers Development Group and South Dublin County Council's Traveller Accommodation Unit developed a library for Traveller adults and children located in the Community Centre at Lynch's Park. Funding for the project was delivered through the Public Library Research Fund - an initiative of the Library Council of Ireland. The library which offers a capsule collection of stock, full internet access on 5 PCs with links to homework help and information sources provides a focal point in the Community Centre, where residents are offered educational and recreational activities. The library works in conjunction with a homework club staffed by Tallaght Travellers Development Group.

Connecting with Communities

During 2010 services to communities were expanded to include an enhanced Home Delivery Service providing library access to citizens who have difficulty visiting their local branch library. Delivering to nursing homes, crèches, day care centres and individual homes on a regular basis this service caters for the personal interests, needs and requirements of individuals. The use of 3G on laptops delivers access to the library website, online catalogue and customer accounts.

Social Media and Customer Dialogue

South Dublin Libraries embraced social media and Web 2.0 tools through Facebook and Twitter and a range of other digital communications platforms. The Library service is now using social media not only as a marketing tool but also to monitor what local communities are saying about services on offer. As the world becomes increasingly mobile and interconnected the library service in South Dublin is keeping pace and engaging in dialogue with local communities in a more immediate manner than ever before.

Supporting Job Seekers across the County

Fás eLearning programmes delivered across Lucan, Clondalkin and the County Library in conjunction with Fás during 2010. The target learners are people with low levels of education; people with low skill levels (e.g. non-transferable skills); people 35 years of age and under who are one year or more on the live register; people unemployed as a result of restructuring of industries (e.g. construction, retail, traditional manufacturing), and people aged 17-19 years who have never worked. Over 300 people availed of this service during the year. Throughout the year ongoing events for job seekers also included training and information sessions on job seeking skills, start up business information sessions, financial information workshops with MABS, programmes delivered for high skilled job seekers in association with IEZ as well as free access to Lexis Nexis the world's largest collection of news and business information and Vision Net a website which provides company information for Ireland and the United Kingdom. These free resources are available on library PC's across the branch network.

READISCOVER Festival 2010

South Dublin Libraries were invited to host the showcase event of READISCOVER 2010 a festival celebrating books and reading and sponsored for the first time by Bord Gáis Energy. During the festival in April 2010 the County Library became a studio for the live broadcast of the George Hook Newstalk show. During the festival Colm McCann, the author of Let the Great World Spin, who had just been awarded the prestigious National Book Award in the USA, gave his first public reading since receiving the award in the County Library where he was interviewed by John Kelly of RTE's The View. The event was streamed and made available as a podcast through the library website.

TEDxTallaght

South Dublin Libraries once again played a significant role in the delivery of the Council's programme for Innovation Dublin November 2010. During the week South Dublin County Council became the first Irish local authority to present an event under the internationally recognised TED organisation whose mission is "ideas worth spreading." The program is designed to give communities, organisations and individuals the opportunity to stimulate dialogue across many themes at the local community level. TEDxTallaght, organised and planned by South Dublin Libraries was held at RUA RED Arts Centre. A new website www.tedxallaght.com helped market the event which drew attendees from across Ireland. Speakers on the night were Katherine Zappone, Director at the Centre for Progressive Change; Darragh Doyle, communications manager with Boards.ie and serial blogger; Merritt Bucholz, award winning architect and founder of the School of Architecture at UL and author and success coach Judy May Murphy. As well as the live speakers, two talks were also chosen from the prestigious www.ted.com and shown in the auditorium.

Community Literacy Project - One Book, One Killinarden

In February 2010 the County Library Tallaght embarked on a Community Literacy Project with 5 schools in the Killinarden area. Working with home school liaison teachers from each school, library staff developed a project based on Tom Crean and his exploration of the Antarctic. Three hundred children in Killinarden read 'Tom Crean's Rabbit A True Story' from Scott's Last Voyage by Meredith Hooper as part of the initiative. During the project each participating school was visited by Children's Services Librarians - promoting the library service and the new children's website. In addition throughout the project a variety of family learning workshops were held in the library based on the Antarctic theme and all children and their parents became registered members of the library. The project ended with a grand finale in Killinarden Community Centre on Friday 19th March 2010 with all 300 young readers and their families in attendance.

Urney Chocolates Exhibition & Book Launch:

South Dublin Libraries collaborated with Karen Nolan in the production of the book Sweet Memories: the Story of Urney Chocolates. The Urney factory on the Belgard Road manufactured confectionary from 1924 to 1960 and was at one time, the leading chocolate manufacturer in Ireland. The book, and the exhibition which accompanied it, were launched in the County Library during Heritage Week in August 2010. Over 200 people attended and the exhibition attracted considerable attention during its five week stay at the County Library. The exhibition has since been displayed in Clondalkin & Castletymon Libraries.

As part of the project, Irish Life and Lore were commissioned by South Dublin Libraries to interview former Urney workers. This resulted in a collection of 16 recordings which are now available for download on Source - the libraries digital archive. Work on the Urney project resulted in valuable contacts being made within the local community. Material relating to Urney, including photographs and artefacts, were acquired for the Local Studies Collection through public donation as a result of the exhibition.

Development Department

The Development Department works with State Agencies, Area Partnerships, other Council Departments and the County Development Board to promote the potential of South Dublin in line with the County Strategy for tourism, arts and culture, sports and leisure and urban and village initiatives.

The role of the Development Department is fulfilled through the provision of sites for major investment and by support of local enterprise, and through the Property Management function, lands are acquired and disposed of to facilitate construction of Roads and Sanitary services, Housing and Community services. The Council's role in controlling dereliction is also carried out by the Department.

Grange Castle Business Park

The Council supports commercial and business development both indirectly by providing essential infrastructure and services, and directly by the provision of serviced and zoned lands.

Over the last number of years, South Dublin County has experienced continuing commercial and industrial development by the private sector. The park is considered one of the four parks nationally that is suitable for large scale Foreign Direct Investment (FDI). However, this stage is becoming more crowded with competitors from Eastern Europe and Asia competing on a global basis with lower labour and service costs. To counteract the competition Grange Castle Business Park markets itself based on its strategic location and the quality of service that the Council and the Facilities Management Company can offer a client company.

Pfizer, Takeda, Microsoft and Arysza AG (Cuisine de France) facilities are now well established in the Park. Works are in place in Takeda to expand their operation and are due to be completed in 2011.

These major clients have delivered high quality sustainable investment and employment in South Dublin County.

The CCTV has been expanded and upgraded to incorporate the Green Route, which was officially opened in June 2010. All major services are now in place through the entire Business Park.

Grange Castle Facilities Management Ltd (a Management Company under the auspices of South Dublin County Council) continued its role in 2010 of overall responsibility for the management and maintenance of the entire Park including security and landscaping.

South Dublin County Tourism Company

South Dublin County Tourism is the marketing, promotional and development company for tourism in South Dublin County. South Dublin County, now established as one of Ireland's premier business, sport and leisure destinations with its state of the art conference, hospitality and entertainment facilities. South Dublin County is home to several conference centres (the IECC at Citywest and the Victory

Overlooked by the Dublin Mountains and positioned right in the heart of South Dublin County, Tallaght Stadium has quickly become a household name in Irish sport. Tallaght Stadium will not only host international sports fixtures but with the facility capable of holding 20,000 spectators we expect to see world famous music stars take to the stage.

During 2010 South Dublin County Tourism implemented and took part in a number of key initiatives in order to promote the County:

Completed New Green Pedestrian and Cycle Route

The 8.5km Green Pedestrian and Cycle Route along the southern towpath of the Grand Canal from Inchicore to the 12th Lock was completed and officially opened in June 2010. The completed Green Route is a tangible example of interagency working in practice. This key piece of infrastructure was delivered by South Dublin County Council, Dublin City Council, Waterways Ireland, and the Electricity Supply Board. The route also incorporates two 110kV power circuits which reinforces ESB Network's existing 110kV network in West Dublin and accommodates existing and future 110kV substations. The project has delivered in a green, sustainable and cost effective manner the following components:

- Power
- Pedestrian and Cycle route
- Impaired Mobility Access

- Public lighting
- CCTV
- Information and signage
- Leisure – fishing, jetties, seating
- Litter bins
- Protection and enhancement of wildlife including bats and otters
- Protection and enhancement of flora

The construction of this Green Pedestrian and Cycle Route along the Grand Canal provides a high quality facility for use by residents, schools, businesses, impaired mobility users and for leisure purposes. The Grand Canal Way has been enhanced by the provision of a sealed stone finished surface, CCTV, public lighting, signage, seating, fishing points, litter bins, jetties and native landscaping providing a safe, secure, environmentally friendly surrounding for walkers, cyclists, wheelchair users and anglers. The facility is being widely used on a daily basis by commuters, leisure walkers and cyclists.

The route forms part of a proposed/under construction network of cycle and walkways throughout the greater Dublin area with linkages to routes such as the Grand Canal basin, Portobello to Clontarf route and Howth.

Land Acquisition

The Council acquires land and property by Agreement or by Compulsory Purchase Order to fulfil the Council's requirements for the provision of motorways and roads, housing, community facilities, industrial development and parks, environmental services and by Deed of Dedication for open spaces.

While there were no Compulsory Purchase Orders made in 2010, throughout the year the Council continued to negotiate and process compensation claims on lands acquired under earlier Compulsory Purchase Orders and by agreement, in previous years.

While most claims are successfully agreed between the Council's Valuer and the Claimant's Valuer, an increase in the number of complicated claims being referred to the Property Arbitrator has been experienced in recent years. The skilful preparation of reports by the Council's Technical and Administrative Staff for appearance before the Arbitrator have resulted in some cases being resolved before these cases are actually heard. In 2010 however, three of the larger cases were referred to the Property Arbitrator. Two of these cases have now been closed and the third is still pending following Arbitration hearing and award.

Land Disposal and Asset Management

The Council disposes of lands which are required for community facilities, educational facilities, or for housing or commercial development. Disposals range from large housing sites to small areas of land to be incorporated into adjoining properties to eliminate incidences of anti-social behaviour or required by land owners to consolidate their ownership.

Given the current market value of land, the Department carefully evaluates, in conjunction with the Chief Valuer's Office, whether or not it is prudent or appropriate to recommend a disposal of land to the Council.

Property Management

Property Management is responsible for the management of the Council's property portfolio including the updating of our property register. Staff regularly monitor the property market in the County and surrounding area for indicators of price and identify potential strategic acquisitions that the Department may consider. Lands acquired by the Council and not required for immediate use are sometimes let for grazing and tillage purposes. The management also involves the granting and renewal of leases/licences for Council lands. Temporary Convenience Lettings of properties are also granted until such time as the property is required for the Council's statutory purposes.

The referencing of lands in the Council's administrative area in relation to a range of property management and development projects is carried out by this Department. The Referencers carry out works on behalf of several Departments including Planning (planning applications, enforcement action, development plans), Roads (road schemes, C.P.O.'s) Finance (rates arrears, public liability claims) and Environmental Services (land acquisition and wayleaves).

Allotments

Allotment plots are allocated in accordance with the Allotment Scheme which was adopted by the Elected Members in September 2005. Allocation of plots in all sites is in accordance with placing on a waiting list, at present there are over 500 on the overall waiting list for the four facilities, which highlights the demand for this type of recreational facility. The Allotment Scheme involves the allocation of a plot for eleven months to individuals wishing to enjoy the pleasure of growing and nurturing vegetables and fruit for personal family use and consumption. The following table shows the sites, plot sizes and current fees:

Location	Size	Cost
Tymon Park, Tallaght	100 Sq Mtrs	€100 €50 Reduced Rate
Friarstown	100 Sq Mtrs	€100 €40 Reduced Rate

Applicants whose sole income is one of the following, maybe entitled to a reduced rate of 50%:

- Job Seekers Allowance
- Job Seekers Benefit
- OAP Contributory
- OAP Non Contributory

- Disability Benefit

It is hoped to extend the current programme in the current year. However, this can only be done in the context of available resources and budgetary implications.

The allotments sites have storage and composting facilities on site and water is provided. Parking areas have been created and toilet facilities provided for the convenience of the plot holders.

Derelict Sites

Since the enactment of the Derelict Sites Act, 1990, the Council has had considerable success in counteracting land dereliction and the Council is committed to maintaining this impetus in the interests of enhancing the County through addressing dereliction. During 2010, 80 inspections and re-inspections were carried out on alleged derelict sites. Section 11 Notices under the Derelict Sites Act, 1990, were served in 23 cases where the properties were considered derelict within the meaning on the Derelict Sites Act, 1990. Failure to comply with a Section 11 Notice may the site being entered onto the derelict sites register.

Environmental Services

Water Services

The Council operates as part of the Greater Dublin Regional Water and Drainage Steering Groups. This approach enables a consolidation of resources which reduces costs and ensures high quality of service provision to the people of South Dublin. However, water is a limited resource and there is a major study underway to identify new water sources for Dublin. This work will be a priority in the coming years and reports have already been made to the Environment Strategic Policy Committee.

Water Maintenance and Operations

South Dublin County Council purchases approximately 70ML/day of treated water from Dublin City Council's water treatment plant at Ballymore Eustace and approximately 1ML/day from Fingal County Council's water treatment plant at Leixlip. This water is distributed throughout the county via some 1,500km of watermains and our 3 main storage reservoirs at Belgard, Peamount and Saggart. The water is distributed to over 89,000 households and over 5,400 metered commercial customers. South Dublin has one public water supply from a borehole in Brittas which supplies approximately 120m³ per day.

Civil Engineering works continued throughout most of 2010 on the Boherboy Water Supply Project until November 2010 when the Contractor went into liquidation with approximately 90% of the contract completed. A completion Contractor will be appointed in 2011 and this project is due for completion in early 2012. This project involves the construction of a new 24ML reservoir at Saggart, a new 17.5ML reservoir at Kiltalown, 45km of new watermains, and linkages and controls to incorporate all new works into the existing water network.

The quality of water is monitored and analysed regularly and complies with all the requirements of the European Communities (Drinking Water) (No. 2) Regulations 2007. 3,941 tests were carried out on the water in 2010 and 99.8% of samples were in compliance, which is above the national average as reported by the EPA. There were no significant non-compliances or water quality issues in 2010.

During 2010 the Water Section repaired 195 burst mains, and carried out maintenance or replacement of 45 no. fire hydrants, 55 sluice valves and 378 services. 39 of those services where work was carried out were lead. The metering project was completed which has replaced nearly all meters with automatic meter reading equipment, and completed a project to install pressure reducing valves in the county.

The Water Section provides a key support to developers, other Council Departments and outside agencies, through the implementation of the Council's Specification for the Laying of Water Mains and Drinking Water Supply, the Council's Water Bye-laws for the Management of Water Services and Conservation of Drinking Water 2004, and the Water Services Act 2007.

The Mechanical Section working in conjunction with the Water Maintenance Section has continued to implement energy efficiency measures in the Water pumping station network. This has consisted of replacing pumps with intelligent variable speed drives, thereby adjusting the pumps speed to the water demand required at any given time. This has reduced electricity bills, plus reduced maintenance costs, with an additional benefit of increasing the particular pumps life.

Water Network Management

The Council continues to participate in the Dublin Region Water Conservation Project (DRWCP) which commenced in 1998. The current phase of this project is at maintenance and rehabilitation stages and day to day water management is undertaken by a small dedicated team.

The watermains infrastructure is recorded on a Regional GIS system which is maintained by each of the Dublin Local Authorities within the Greater Dublin Area. 1,485 km of South Dublin County Council's watermains are digitally recorded to end of 2010 and over 94 km of new mains were mapped within the South Dublin County Council area in 2010.

Water distribution is managed using Logica Telemetry which remotely monitors the flows and pressures at 120 locations across the county and facilitates efficient weekly programming of leakage surveying works. Unaccounted for Water (UFW) losses in South Dublin County averaged 20.85% in 2010. During 2010 this section identified 163 repairs and 43 enabling works which were issued to Maintenance Section.

The implementation of pressure control measures are assisting the Council to achieve the 2016 UFW targets of 16%, as set by the Department of the Environment, Heritage and Local Government.

33-new Pressure Reducing Valves (PRVs) were commissioned in 2009 under the Water Conservation Programme in order to reduce mains pressure locally and thereby reduce leakage. The average reduction in pressure across the 33-areas was 12.5m. Further Day-Night pressure control measures were fitted on these PRVs during 2010 to maximise water savings at night. An additional 7.5m pressure reduction was achieved in 25 of the 33-PRVs. The total saving in water within these 33-PRVed areas is 2,200 cum/day. An additional 27-PRVs will be commissioned during 2011/12 as part of the Boherboy project. These measures will optimise the management of scarce water resources.

During 2010 there were two severe weather incidents which resulted in water shortage. The Council used the PRVs to ration water across the County in order to conserve water. All premises – domestic and non-domestic should have twenty-four hours storage and the Council used its conservation regime to ensure no area of the County was left without water for over 24 hours. Specific issues with regard to frozen services caused further disruption and will be addressed/ highlighted in future.

The Dublin Region Watermain Rehabilitation Project phase of the DRWCP commenced in 2007 and its primary objective is conserving water across the Greater Dublin Region. 5-SDCC schemes are listed in the WSIP2010 and will commence in Jan 2011.

The Non-Domestic Metering Project is complete. This project will ensure that all commercial customers are metered and charged for their water usage in a fair manner in compliance with the EU and Government Water Pricing Policy.

Drainage

Drainage Maintenance and Operations

Drainage Maintenance and Operations Section maintains and improves the foul sewer and surface water infrastructure across the County.

In 2010 this work consisted mainly of

- Constructing new foul and surface water pipelines, to cater for increased drainage capacity and flood management i.e. (a) Monksfield, Clondalkin (b) Cromwellsfort Road, Kimmage (c) Bancroft, Tallaght (d) Orlagh Grove, Knocklyon and Kilvere Estate off Butterfield Avenue.
- River and stream flood management works such as screen maintenance
- Unblocking and freeing up of public sewers
- Remedial work on sewerage infrastructure
- Upgrading and refurbishing pumping stations ie Spa PS, Lucan, Johnstown PS, Palmerston and Quarryvale PS, Clondalkin.
- Maintenance of network of pumping stations
- Emergency call outs
- Taking over the drainage maintenance of new estates that have been “taken in charge” by the Council
- Providing advice on the Dublin Regional Drainage Code of Practice for Drainage Works.

Water Pollution Control

The River Basin Management Plan was prepared and adopted by South Dublin County Council in November 2009. The plan has been adopted by the other counties participating in the ERBD and is in force since June 2010. South Dublin County Council is now implementing the agreed Programme of Works.

Recent Legislation of note has been the enactment of S.I. 272 of 2009 dealing with surface water quality objectives. This broadens the number of parameters that have upper [and in some cases lower] limits with regard to water quality. These limits directly relate to water quality status e.g. high or good, as aimed for in the ERBD Plan.

New regulations SI No. 101 of 2009 EC (Good Agricultural Practice for the Protection of Waters) Regulations 2009 were enacted and as a consequence the previous 2006 and 2007 Regulations were revoked. Some changes of note are contained in the new regulations but its business as usual for the Water Pollution Control section with regard to this legislation.

The EPA issued a Code of Practice for Wastewater Treatment and Disposal Systems for Serving Single Houses (p.e. ≤ 10). This has been included in the new county development plan as the document of reference for appropriate wastewater treatment not on the public sewer system.

The Water Pollution Control Team is responsible for the monitoring, reviewing and issuing of trade effluent licences to businesses. In 2010, a total of 128 licences were in force under the Local Government (Water Pollution) Acts 1977 & 1990, the EPA Act 1992, and the Waste Management Act 1996.

Water and Drainage Design/Projects

The Department of the Environment, Heritage and Local Government approved the following schemes to advance through planning under the Water Services Investment Programme 2010 - 2012:

- South Dublin Sewer Scheme 9B
- Dodder Valley Sewerage Scheme
- Saggart/Rathcoole/Newcastle Sewerage Scheme
- Water Conservation Stage 3 Works

Management of the Council Fleet

The Council maintains a fleet of vehicles and machinery in order to provide its broad range of services. This fleet is maintained by the Council's Mechanical Section who are also responsible for the development and upkeep of the Water and Drainage Pumping Stations. The fleet comprised approximately 375 vehicles in 2010. Each Department using the fleet is charged for their vehicles as well as providing for future replacement of the vehicles.

Waste Management

South Dublin is part of the Dublin Regional Waste Management Plan in conjunction with the three other Dublin Local Authorities. The current plan runs to the end of 2010 and sets out the full range of infrastructure required to deliver integrated waste services in the region. It also provides for the range of services which support this delivery including recycling, awareness, enforcement, cleansing.

Waste Management Plan

During 2010, the Council continued the implementation of the Waste Management Plan for the Dublin Region 2005-2010. The Plan, which can be viewed on www.dublinwaste.ie is based on the priorities of waste minimisation, on maximising recycling and minimising landfill by recovery through thermal treatment.

Waste Management Operations

The Council continued to provide an integrated waste management service in 2010.

- A weekly collection of domestic refuse was provided for over 76,000 households and commercial customers throughout the County up to June 2010.
- In June 2010 the Council introduced the Brown bin Collection service. Each Household received a 140 litre Brown Bin and an information pack explaining the Environmental Requirements for the introduction of the bin system and a calendar detailing the new alternating presentation schedule for black bins and brown bins. Over 75,000 brown bins were delivered to customers and in 2010 2,570 tonnes of compostable waste was collected.
- Residual Waste continued to be baled at the Council's Baling Station at Ballymount and disposed of in the Council's engineered landfill at Arthurstown.
- The Compostable waste was brought to the Council's Baling Station at Ballymount and the waste stream transferred to a private contractor to produce compost that can be used as a soil improver for agriculture, horticultural or soil improvement.

- Bye Laws for the Storage, Presentation and Collection of Household Waste continued to be implemented to encourage good practice by both householder and Waste Collection contractors in the county.
- Facilities available at Ballymount Civic Amenity and Recycling Centre continued to operate in 2010.
- The Green Bin collection service continued to operate a fortnightly service with all clean plastics being included which has led to a considerable reduction in residual waste generated with 16,483 tonnes of waste collected from households in the County in 2010.
- A total of 34,320 tonnes of recyclable material was collected in South Dublin County through Green Bins, Bring Banks and other services.
- The Council now provides 48 Bring Bank facilities around the County.
- The Council's landfill at Kill co. Kildare closed on 21st December 2010.

Environmental Waste Charge

South Dublin operates a system of Pay-Per-Use and it has resulted in a continuing reduction in the percentage of residual waste being presented for disposal at landfill as customers remain in control of their own waste charges

The advance credit system for waste charges collection introduced in 2009 provides for greater flexibility on payment and account management methods.

Cleansing and Litter Control Service

The Council's Road Sweeping Programme continued in 2010:

- Main roads swept a minimum of 12 times a year and industrial estates swept at least twice a year and housing estates being swept on a regular basis by a Private Contractor.

- Leaf clearance is done in conjunction with the sweeping schedule and completed between a period commencing 1st October to December 31st.
- Gully cleansing is done once a year on all streets main roads, dual carriageways and motorways except in some locations that are prone to flooding. These are cleaned 2-4 times a year.

The Council's six Litter Wardens enforced the litter legislation and also provided advice and assistance to Residents Associations in organising clean-ups etc. including assistance during National Spring Clean Week. A total of 578 Litter Fines were issued during 2010 and 146 Direct Prosecutions were also initiated.

The Council removed a total of 5,581 tonnes of waste in 2010 and 6006 incidents of litter and illegal dumping were responded to by the Cleansing Section which also provide an emergency response when required.

The Council continued to employ a graffiti crew to deal with graffiti throughout the County. Over 180 tasks have been undertaken by the crew in 2010.

Waste Enforcement

During 2010, South Dublin Council identified and registered 15 unlicensed Historic landfills. Walkover surveys were conducted on these sites and they were categorised into low, high and medium risk according to the EPA code of practice for Environmental Risk Assessment for Unregulated Waste Disposal Sites.

In the area of statutory inspections under RMCEI, Waste Enforcement and Regulations Section planned 113 inspections. They achieved 148 inspections

Bonfire Prevention

As part of its overall strategy for keeping the county clean a programme was developed which comprised “Bulbs Not Bonfires” and a free day in Ballymount Civic Amenity on the eve of Halloween as well as a special WEEE collection in conjunction with CCRI. There was a reduction in the number of bonfires in 2010.

The primary fire station for the County is located at Belgard Road, Tallaght with back up from Dolphin's Barn, Blanchardstown and Nutgrove Avenue stations as required.

Emergency Planning

The Council as a Principal Response Agency (PRA), operates the Emergency Plan for the County. A new framework published in 2006 led to a more comprehensive Plan for the county being produced in late 2008. A number of exercises have been conducted and will continue to be developed to ensure the Council is in a position to respond as a lead authority in conjunction with the other PRAs. The plan is constantly revised to ensure that it is up-to- date at all times.

The Mayor Emergency Plan was updated in October 2010 and new version of it was issued in 2010. The current version is now version 2 which became valid from 19th October 2010. The Appendices to the

The revised scheme of Letting Priorities approved by the Minister for Housing and Urban Renewal in 2006 is based on Time on List rather than points. It continued to operate during 2010.

The Department of the Environment, Heritage & Local Government granted approval to South Dublin to operate two pilot schemes namely CBLS (Choice Based Letting Scheme) and the ASH (Applicants Sourced Housing) in support of the Social Housing Leasing Initiative which commenced in July 2010. The two pilot schemes represent a new and exciting method in the allocation and provision of social housing to persons on the housing list.

In 2010, 400 applicants on the housing list were contacted with full information on both schemes and requested to submit a preference for either option.

South Dublin Children's Services Committee

South Dublin Children's Services Committee (SDCSC) has been working since late 2007 to promote interagency working and integrated service design by all organisations involved in the provision of services to children and families. The initiative was established in South Dublin by Office of the Minister for Children and Youth Affairs (OMCYA). Committee membership is drawn from a number of key organisations responsible for the delivery of services to Children and Families. These include South Dublin County Council (SDCC), Health Services Executive (HSE), National Education Welfare Board (NEWB), National Educational Psychological Services (NEPS), National Council for Special Education (NCSE), and the County Dublin VEC, Gardai, Probation services, Barnardos, CPLN and Dodder Valley Partnerships, AMNCH and the Childhood Development Initiative (CDI).

The committee also operates a number of sub-groups whose membership is drawn from a wide range of personnel working in the County. Each sub-group has developed a number of projects designed to aid interagency working through the development of a number of protocols and test interagency working through demonstration projects.

A number of important initiatives were completed in 2010 including the publication of protocols on Data Sharing, Sharing information on case work and Interagency Cooperation. The implementation phase of the protocols will begin in January 2011 with the roll out of training in interagency working for frontline staff in a number of agencies.

The Directory of Services for Frontline staff will be published in early 2011.

The Quality of Life project continues to map data critical to the development of informed planning and service delivery in relation to services for Children and Families.

The Alternative Response Model (ARM) project completed its first demonstration and evaluation phase. Best described as an interagency approach to solving the often complex needs of families, members of the project team, drawn again from a range of services in South Dublin such as HSE Social Workers, Community workers, South Dublin County Council, Gardai, Probation, Barnardos etc. examined a number of family cases, examining the range of needs and services required and acting then, collectively to address those needs. It is hoped to extend the scope of this pilot in 2011

County Development Plan SEA

The Environmental Report of the County Development Plan was produced as part of the Strategic Environmental Assessment (SEA) process. This was the first formal assessment of the environmental impacts of the policies and objectives contained in the South Dublin County Development Plan since the introduction of the SEA process into national legislation in 2004. The SEA process has both statutory and public consultation built into the process. The overall intention is to provide for a high level of protection of the environment and to provide for the integration of environmental considerations into the preparation and adoption of Plans with a view to promoting sustainable development.

Adamstown SDZ

Adamstown was designated as a 'Strategic Development Zone' in 2001. As 'Development Agency', South Dublin County Council is committed to ensuring that Adamstown is a sustainable urban community and that development occurs at a pace whereby it is supported by all necessary facilities and infrastructure. The roll out of Adamstown is ongoing, based on an approved Planning Scheme.

At the end of 2010, approximately one-third of potential housing is permitted, with nearly 1,200 new homes occupied. The pace of new residential commencements moderated in 2010 due to a contraction in the construction industry. The main focus during 2010 was completing existing development in the 'Paddocks' and Adamstown 'Square' areas. Progress was also made in the 'taking in charge' process.

The Adamstown Developers have delivered public playing pitches, to accommodate sporting activities in Adamstown pending the completion of permanent facilities at Tandy's Lane Park and Airlie Park. The Developers also maintained discussions with potential commercial tenants for the District Centre during 2010. During the course of 2010 one planning application was submitted, for 177 no. residential units, the focus of which is on a compact family housing model in the 'Adamstown Square 3' area.

Adamstown PTP Smart Travel Project

South Dublin County Council, with the support of the National Transport Authority launched Smarter Travel Adamstown, a sustainable travel programme in 2009 and The Adamstown Personalised Travel Plan (PTP), a pilot project, was delivered in March 2010. The primary aim of the Adamstown Personalised Travel Planning pilot was to develop a community based travel planning toolkit to assist in establishing sustainable travel behaviour in new residential developments, set in an Irish context.

The overall response to the pilot was very positive and generated a shift in travel behaviour, with walking and the bus ranking highest in terms of alternative modes trialled. The outcome of the Adamstown PTP pilot further contributes to the body of evidence which supports the positive benefits that can be gained through suitable approaches and mechanisms used in generating modal shift.

Not only did the pilot succeed in creating behavioural and attitudinal change, it also explored what motivated participants to change travel behaviour. The delivery of the Smarter Travel Adamstown PTP directly by staff of the Planning Department has proved very beneficial. This approach allowed the Planning Department to steer the project and to utilise established knowledge of the area. Critically, this approach has also built capacity and skills that have enabled the Council to secure NTA funding for a PTP project elsewhere in South Dublin

Smart Travel Extension of Grand Canal Pedestrian/Cycle Route from Inchicore to Adamstown and Griffeen Ave.

The Planning Department secured more than €2m in funding from the Department of Transport's Smarter Travel Programme, to extend the Green Pedestrian and Cycle Route that runs along the Grand Canal between Davitt Road, Inchicore and the 12th Lock, to Adamstown and Griffeen Avenue, Lucan South.

The extension of the Greenroute to Adamstown and Griffeen Avenue includes the construction of a significant new canal bridge for pedestrians and cyclists, footpaths, cycleways, public lighting and CCTV. The route will enhance the accessibility of the Grand Canal from surrounding areas and will create a first class pedestrian and cycle route between Adamstown, Lucan South and Dublin City, that will facilitate secure, safe and attractive connections for school, work and leisure purposes.

Construction work on the construction of the cycle / pedestrian paths and the installation of the CCTV and Public Lighting began in July 2010. An application to Waterways Ireland for permission for the construction of a bridge over the Grand Canal was made in August 2010 and following a tender process construction of the bridge is scheduled for early 2011. The project is on target to be fully complete by mid-May 2011.

Clonburris LAP and SDZ

The Clonburris area is one of the most significant areas zoned for development within South Dublin County. Two-thirds of the area was designated a 'Strategic Development Zone' or 'SDZ' in 2006. As Development Agency, South Dublin County Council is committed to ensuring that Clonburris develops as a sustainable urban community. The roll out of Clonburris will be based on the Planning Scheme approved by An Bord Pleanála in November 2008 and an approved Local Area Plan adopted by the Council in April 2008. During 2009, a Project Implementation team was engaged in follow-up work required further to the An Bord Pleanála decision including the preparation of an Urban Form Development Framework which must be agreed prior to any built development taking place in the centre of the Clonburris SDZ Planning Scheme. This process was finalised, following consultation with landowners and stakeholders, at the end of 2010, and agreement of a final document did not emerge from the process and therefore the UFDF has now been referred to An Bord Pleanála for determination.

In February 2010 South Dublin County Council granted planning permission for in excess of 850 dwelling units in the first proposal for development on the Local Area Plan lands. This decision was appealed to An Bord Pleanála, with a decision scheduled for early 2011.

Smart Travel National Street Design Guide

Several Planning Department staff are at the core of a working group that also includes representation from Kildare and Fingal County and Cork City Councils, in the production of a National policy and technical guidance document for the design of roads and streets in urban areas i.e. where the speed limit is 50kph and below. This work is being undertaken on behalf of and is funded by the Department of Transport, who prepared the Project Brief and is overseen by a Steering Group that also includes DoEH&LG representation. The SDCC role includes hosting project meetings and project administration as well as technical input to and co-ordination of the draft document.

Local Plans

Clondalkin Town Centre Framework Plan

Special Local Objective 43 of the South Dublin County Council Development Plan 2010-2016 sought the preparation of a Clondalkin

Town Centre plan. A non-statutory draft Framework Plan was prepared in 2010 and placed on public display in early 2011.

Naas Road Development Framework

The Naas Road Development Framework Study was noted by the elected members of both the Lucan-Clondalkin and Tallaght Area Committees on the 19th May 2010 and 26 April 2010, respectively. The Development Framework provided the informed basis for a number of Development Plan policies and objectives and does provide the overall strategic planning framework for the area.

Sustainable Energy/ Energy Planning Projects

EU Local Energy Action Leadership (LEAP) Project

In 2010, the Planning Department secured funding under the 'Intelligent Energy Europe 2' (IEE2) Project Fund for the preparation of a sustainable energy action plan (SEAP) for the County and the implementation of specific measures (actions) that arise out of the Plan. The aim of this work will be to reduce CO2 emissions below a baseline level, identified at an early stage in the process. The Project includes an SDCC commitment to signing the EU 'Covenant of Mayors' during the course of the Project.

Energy Map

The SEAI supported Energy Map system which provides a programme of mentoring for improving energy efficiency across the organisation has been established with the County Architect appointed as Energy Champion. The Planning Department is represented on the Energy Map team and has a central role in identifying and progressing projects.

Tallaght Pilot Energy Study: Review of Space Heating Options

In order to inform the energy policy elements of the County Development Plan, the Planning Department carried out a pilot energy study in the Tallaght area. The purpose of this study was to attain information on the existing costs of energy provision (space heating) in the Town Centre area and to compare these costs to the costs of other long term options for energy provision. This information will allow the Council to include real policy statements in the County Development Plan. They also provide a basis for the development of a sustainable energy zone within the Town Centre allowing interested stakeholders to work together on energy projects which benefit the entire area. This includes the examination of the possibility of developing a District Heating System within the Town Centre

Integrated Area Plans (IAPs)/Urban Renewal Scheme

The tax incentive Integrated Area Plans (IAP's) for both Tallaght and Clondalkin have come to an end and final reports have been issued for both areas for the period of operation 1999-2008. The schemes generated direct private investment in excess €800 million between the two areas and have generated an additional €15million that is being expended in the disadvantaged neighbourhoods on Community Infrastructure and Community Projects. Both Plans have significantly contributed towards addressing the physical, economic, social and environmental regeneration of the town centres and in the adjoining

Muintir Na Tire, Lucan was grant aided for roof repairs

Bolton Hall, Rathfarnham was grant aided for the reinstatement of the entire roof to its original after fire damage

St. Anne's Church, Bohernabreena was grant aided for repair of rainwater goods and treatment of interior roof timbers.

disadvantaged residential areas. While around 2,500 apartments were constructed in the Tallaght Town Centre area, the occupancy rate is approximately 60%.

Conservation

South Dublin County Council's Record of Protected Structures contains 544 Protected Structures, 105 of which are public authority owned. The Conservation Grants Scheme for Protected Structures is funded by the Department of the Environment, Heritage and Local Government. The grant scheme is administered by the Council's Conservation Officer/Section and has been successful to date in ensuring owners of Protected Structures are provided grant assistance to undertake necessary conservation and repair works to secure and protect their structures.

The Grant Scheme allocation for Protected Structures received from the Department of Environment, Heritage and Local Government for 2010 was €87,000 eight Conservation Grants were provided with grant aid based on the scheme of priorities and the full amount of our allocation was spent. The works completed under the grant scheme for 2010 included repairs/replacement and treatment of roofs, repairs to chimneys, repair to rainwater goods and repair of external renders. Examples of grant aided projects are shown above.

The Civic Structures grant scheme was launched in 2007 by the Department of the Environment, Heritage and Local Government.

The Conservation Officer/Conservation Section provides information and advice to other Council Departments in relation to this grant scheme and ensures the works being carried out are in accordance with good conservation practice. South Dublin County Council was successful in obtaining grant aid of €20,000 for remedial repair and conservation works to the Roman Arch, Rathfarnham.

There are 5 designated Architectural Conservation Areas within South County Dublin, Tallaght Village, Rathfarnham Village/Willbrook, Lucan Village, Clondalkin Village and Palmerston Mills. This designation has been very successful in the conservation; protection and enhancement of those areas South Dublin County Council consider of great architectural quality and character

The Planning Departments Conservation Officer/Section assisted the Development Plan review team in assessing the submissions received during the County Development Plan review process in relation to Archaeological and Architectural Heritage and conservation of built environment.

The Planning Departments Conservation Officer/Section also provides reports on planning applications and Section 5 Declarations that affect Protected Structures, Architectural Conservation Areas, Recorded Monuments and Zones of Archaeological Potential.

- Pre-planning and general conservation advice is also provided to occupiers/owners of Protected Structures. The Conservation Officer/Section issues Section 57 Declarations in respect of Protected Structures.
- Section 59 Endangerment Notices are also initiated by the Conservation Officer/Section to include details of specific works that owners of a Protected Structure must undertake to ensure the structure is being safeguarded.
- Reports are also prepared for the Enforcement Section with regard to unauthorised development to a Protected Structures or within an Architectural Conservation Areas.
- The Conservation Officer/Section also provides advice to other Council Departments in relation to Protected Structures and other historic buildings/features and general conservation issues. This also includes providing reports or comments in relation to dangerous buildings and Part 8 notices.

Heritage

The South Dublin County Heritage Plan 2010-2015 was agreed and adopted by Council in June 2010. This preparation of the Plan was undertaken by the Council's Heritage Officer in conjunction with the County Heritage Forum. Two phases of public consultation were undertaken during the preparation of the document which included five public meetings and invitations for written submissions.

The Heritage Plan is a realistic cross-agency strategy, with reference to agreed delivery and monitoring mechanisms for the identification, protection, conservation, management, enhancement, and interpretation of all aspects of heritage including the historic, built, natural, and cultural environments. It is a strategic statement detailing what South Dublin County aims to achieve in terms of heritage management over a 5 year period, while also being a list of achievable actions which will be undertaken to achieve these objectives.

The incorporation of heritage advice and information to the Council's forward planning process featured significantly in the preparation of the County Development Plan, particularly in relation to requirements for the implementation of the EU Habitats Directive. These requirements culminated in the preparation of a Screening Report for Appropriate Assessment for the CDP which accompanied the CDP's Strategic Environmental Assessment.

Heritage advice and contributions were also made to other Council Departments and to the following meetings and events: the Arts and Culture Development Working Group; the Cultural Quarter Committee Meeting; the Clonburris UFDF Biodiversity Study; Lucan Luas RPA meetings; planning and development applications; students and post-graduate students; Heritage Week event at the 12th Lock; the Aviation Museum in Baldonnell; heritage tour guide; and Dublin Zoo. In addition, the Heritage Officer hosted three heritage-related radio programmes produced by Radio Tallaght.

Dublin Mountains Partnership (DMP)

The Dublin Mountains Way was officially opened on 31st October 2010 at an event in Ticknock Forest. It is a new long distance walk linking Tallaght in the west to Shankill in the east, 43km of trail.

Dublin Mountains Way at Cruagh, South Dublin

This has long been a long standing objective in the Local Authorities' County Development Plans and has now been delivered. It is an excellent example of how projects can be delivered through partnership. Through the hard work and cooperation of the Local Authorities, private landowners and over 300 volunteers, the Dublin Mountains Way is now on the ground.

An ongoing programme of trail improvement is in place and a number of sections of trail have been newly built, upgraded and waymarked during 2010 totalling 19.4 Km. Four new looped walks have been waymarked across the Dublin Mountains at the Hell Fire Club, and Glenasmole. Signage with site information and maps is installed at forest entrances and car parks and provides valuable information for visitors on the trails, points of interest and the Leave No Trace message.

Improving information on the mountains and how visitors can access and make use of the resource is a key area for the DMP. The use of the website www.dublinmountains.ie is continuing to grow throughout 2010 and is proving a very popular source of information on the mountains and events taking place. It is regularly updated with news and upcoming events, and provides visitors with maps and information about the recreation sites. A new page for the Dublin Mountains Way with downloadable maps was added in 2010. A “Dublin Mountains Public Lands Access Map” highlighting land accessible to the public, access points, car parks, recreation facilities and the Dublin Mountains Way and Wicklow Way was published in association with EastWest Mapping was officially launched on 31st October. It is available in bookshops and outdoor shops and online.

From the outset, the DMP has been keen to develop the role for volunteers as an important part in the management and improvement of recreation in the Dublin Mountains. It works with a number of organisations, their volunteers and other individuals to achieve this goal. As part of its programme to provide an enhanced recreation experience for the users of the Dublin Mountains, the DMP developed its own Volunteer Ranger Service.

Volunteer Rangers play an important role in management of outdoor recreation in many other countries including the U.K. and the U.S. The duties undertaken by DMP Volunteer Rangers, is similar to those in other countries, and include assisting visitors to the DMP area, opening and closing car parks, leading guided walks and helping with DMP organised events, promoting responsible use through the Leave No Trace programme, litter picking and trail maintenance.

The DMP Volunteer Rangers play an important role in management of outdoor recreation in the public lands of the Dublin Mountains. The DMP Volunteer Ranger Service was expanded in 2010 and now has a team of 30 volunteers in place.

A consultative forum for stakeholders in the Dublin Mountains has been set up. This will meet 4-5 times per year and will provide an opportunity for interested locals to be informed of the work of the DMP and for the DMP to listen to the ideas and concerns of locals. Three additional permanent orienteering courses were established in 2010 bringing the total to five courses in the Dublin Mountains. On all five sites, there are three courses of varying lengths for the public. There are additional educational resources available for both primary and secondary schools and are designed to enhance the orienteering experience for both teachers and pupils. The orienteering maps, instructions and school workbooks are available to download on the website www.dublinmountains.ie.

Mountain biking is very popular in the Dublin Mountains and encourages many new and younger visitors to the forests and mountains. The first section of a new 8km mountain bike trail system commenced construction at Tiknock Forest. The design of the trails will be sustainable and will appeal to a broad range of mountain bikers and will be graded moderate to very challenging. The trails will be fast and fun with large rock slabs, big grade reversals, technical twisty bits and fast flowing descents. This is the first phase of the mountain bike trail development.

The work of the DMP has received excellent coverage in both national and local media sources. The Dublin Mountains Way was featured as a full episode of the RTE One Tracks and Trails TV Series. This highlights the interest in South Dublin’s Mountains and in the work and achievements of the DMP in demonstrating that partnership between different organisations with similar objectives works and achieves results. This widespread and regular media coverage also encourages many more visitors to get out, get active and explore the mountains.

Planning Applications

In 2010, the Council received 813 valid planning applications. This represented a decrease of 11% on 2009. There were 771 decisions made in relation to planning applications during 2010, 666 grants of permission, 105 refusals. 23 applications were declared withdrawn during 2010. There were 64 invalid applications received in 2010 and a further 20 applications deemed invalid due to the Site Notice not being in accordance with the regulatory requirements.

115 applications for Fire Safety Certificates were received in 2010.

Enforcement

A total of 309 new enforcement files were opened in 2010. Warning letters were issued in 304 cases during 2010 and Enforcement Notices were served in 141 cases. Development Contributions

South Dublin County Council's Development Contributions Scheme was adopted by the elected members on 14th December 2009 and is applicable to permissions granted from January 1st 2010 to 31st December 2017. Since the adoption of the scheme over 750 grants of permission have been assessed for the purpose of development contributions.

The total development contributions received under this scheme in 2010 were €4million.

The Council also operates the Supplementary Development Contributions Scheme for the Metro West line (on behalf of the Railway Procurement Agency) and the Kildare Route Project Supplementary Development Contributions Scheme (on behalf of Irish Rail).

Roads Department

In 2010 the Roads Department continued with its Maintenance, Traffic Management, Design and Construction of National, Regional and Local roads.

Footpath Programme

In 2010 €400,000 was spent on replacing bays and removing trip hazards within the County. A total of 5,600 sqm of footpaths were replaced and 7,000 m of trip hazards were removed.

Winter Gritting

For a second year in a row the demands made on the Roads Winter Gritting Crews was almost doubled due to the weather conditions in the period January to March and the exceptional weather experienced at the end of 2010 which continued into the early part of 2011. Again heavy snowfalls and extended periods of sub- zero temperatures as well as shortages of salt and gritting materials placed enormous pressure on the resources of the Council. Despite these difficulties the Council were able to manage its stocks so that at all times we were able to keep the main commuter routes open. The co-ordination of the Council's response by using the up to the minute information from the Traffic Management Centre helped our front line maintenance staff target the most problematic areas during this period. Plans for the provision of additional storage facilities in the County for salt were progressed during 2010 and the construction of the facility is due to be completed by the end of March 2011. This new storage facility will give the Council greater flexibility should a similar weather pattern hit the County in future years.

Staff Training

Training of staff within the Roads Department continued in 2010 with further staff attending Signing, Lining & Guarding; Health & Safety at Road works, Location of underground Services and Designers of Temporary Traffic Management Plans as part of the Health & Safety programme.

Other notable statistics for the Roads Maintenance area are:

- 494 abnormal load permits were issued.
- 3,429 online Roadmap applications were made.

Roads Traffic

Traffic Management Centre

The Traffic Management Centre now utilises Twitter as well as SMS (51678), live traffic images, actual journey times plus profile journey times to assist road users.

The centre was also invaluable during the extreme weather experienced in 2010. It could provide up to date information to the general public about road conditions throughout the County as well as providing important information, from the network of cameras strategically placed throughout the County, to the gritting crews so that the response was delivered in an efficient and effective manner.

Traffic Signals

Following the installation of a pilot traffic light linkage system, the results of which showed a 14% journey time improvement, an application was made in 2010 to the National Transport Authority for funding to extend this system to other areas.

1300 repairs/adjustments were carried out on the traffic signal network in 2010

The Traffic Section is currently working with the Rail Procurement Agency to install the latest traffic signal equipment to synchronise rail and road signals to optimise traffic flows on the Saggart Luas Line.

MOVA was installed at a further 3 sites in 2010 and traffic counts undertaken at these locations indicated increased capacity in the range 3% to 12% with an average of 7%.

Pay and Display

New Pay and Display Bye Laws were prepared and adopted in 2010. Pay and Display was extended to Templeogue, Tallaght/Oldbawn and Fortfield with charges for Saturday parking introduced in certain areas.

Mobility Management

The Roads Department organised activities to promote alternative ways of travelling emphasising walking, cycling and public transport as part of National Bike Week and European Mobility Week

The promotion of the Bike Purchase Scheme continued in 2010. The now yearly Pedometer Challenge was also organised during 2010 and the number of teams participating increased again this year.

The highlight of the cycling year was the contribution made to the official opening of the Grand Canal Route where a cycle tour of the route was held to mark its opening.

Road Safety and School Wardens

The School Warden service continued at schools and selected crossings throughout the County.

The Road Safety Section supported courses in cycle training for 1,200 national school children.

In conjunction with the Traffic Section a number of locations were identified for the installation of additional safety features and signage.

Architectural Services

The Architectural Services Department continued to produce a range of innovative and attractive projects and ongoing development programmes in 2010 despite the continuing downturn.

- The Neilstown Boxing Club was completed including a rooflit boxing-hall, gymnasium and changing facilities as well as a new community meeting-space and other improvements for Neilstown Community Centre adjoining. A small urban space to the front and side of the scheme was added to the project to improve its setting under the Public Realm Initiative. This has proved successful and is well-maintained.
- Work commenced on site on the refurbishment and extension of the Tallaght Welfare Society building in the Village Green. This will extend their capacity to offer services in a bright and airy renovation of their premises, including a garden.
- An extension to and reformatting of Rowlagh Community Centre was issued to tender in 2010. The scheme includes a new crèche, club rooms, dance studio and internet café. Its slim tower to Neilstown Road will become a colourful urban landmark when work is completed in 2011.
- South Dublin County Council was successful in a DoEHLG-sponsored competition to design an Energy-efficient Housing Scheme under the Towards Carbon Neutral Programme. The winning entry, Valhalla Special Needs Housing in Clondalkin, will feature a broad range of renewable technologies including solar collectors (electrical and heating), ground-pumps, super-insulation and grass roofs. The project will commence on site in 2011 with completion due in mid-2012.
- A joint project with Planning Department saw the design of a cycle/footbridge over the Grand Canal linking Adamstown to the new pedestrian route along the Grand Canal. The bridge is an elegant shape and will be a new landmark in Griffeen Park. It is designed in conjunction with Clifton Scannel Emerson Engineers and will be completed in mid 2011.
- Tenders also issued for 3 Traveller houses in Turnpike near the Red Cow Junction. The project will be completed at the end of 2011.
- Tenders were received for an infill scheme of 9 houses – 4 on lands at Kingston Court and 5 on lands at the junction of Glendoher Drive and Taylors Lane, Rathfarnham. Work is expected to commence in mid-2011.
- Scheme approval was sought from the DoEHLG for a refurbishment and energy upgrade proposal for 22 apartments at Pearse Brothers Park and Palmer Park, Ballyboden
- The refurbishment and upgrading of existing Council Housing Stock continues to be an important element of the department's portfolio. The aim is to improve tenants' quality of life while reducing the carbon footprint of South Dublin County.
 - The next phase of refurbishment in Cushlawn and Greenfort/

Shancastle Estates was approved for funding by the Department of Environment;

- The tender for Cushlawn Phase 3 Refurbishment of 77 dwellings was returned in late November and, subject to Departmental Approval, will start on site in 2011.
- Tender documents are in progress for 75 Dwellings in Greenfort / Shancastle Estates.
- Government funding allowed the energy-upgrading of 48 voided dwellings while under relet-repair in 2010.
- 6,000 Council dwellings had their boilers serviced under the supervision and management of the Council's Mechanical & Electrical section.
- The Small Works programme continued with 1 special needs extension completed in 2010, 5 extensions currently on site and due to be completed in the first quarter of 2011 and a further 6 extensions at varying stages of the process.

The Architects Department continued their collaboration with the Planning Department in the area of Energy Management and the promotion of sustainable initiatives at every level. The Council continues its own BER and DEC evaluations of buildings using its clerk of Works staff, specially trained for this work.

The project management and procurement of the Housing Construction Programme provided 99 families with new houses in 2010 including units procured by direct contract and under Part V arrangements in private developments. This figure includes 44 families who were housed by Voluntary Agencies and 3 families in Specially Adapted Accommodation procured through the Construction Programme. The direct provision of social housing units by SDCC-managed construction contracts is decreasing year-on-year with social housing needs being met primarily by RAS and leasing schemes. All inspections on these programmes are carried out by Council staff directly. Smaller infill schemes will be directed into areas of anti-social behaviour and special-needs families where departmental approval and funding allow.

The Architectural Services Department manages the monitoring of Dangerous Structures in the County. 85 reports and evaluations were carried out in 2010 including serious fires and structural collapses.

In addition to construction, design and urban-design, Architects Department offers advice to other council Departments on a wide variety of technical issues.

With Continuing Professional Development now a legal requirement for Architects under the Registration Section of the Building Control Act 2007, training was acquired in 2010 from SEI, UCD, RIAI, on BER Assessment (including Public Buildings), New Contracts, Sustainable Energy and 9 accredited CPD lunch-time sessions over the year. The staff of the department remains committed and flexible and looks forward to new challenges in 2011.

Higher Education Grants

Higher Education Grants are awarded to students who are residents of South Dublin in accordance with the Local Authorities (Higher Education Grants) Acts, 1968 – 1992 and the relevant annual Scheme under guidelines of the Department of Education and Skills and as adopted by the Council.

Under the Higher Education Grants Scheme for the 2010/2011 academic year approximately 1280 students were awarded grant assistance in respect of Maintenance and/or Fees. A total amount of €4.5 million was paid out in Higher Education Grants during the 2010 calendar year.

During 2010 South Dublin County Council continued to make payments to students by way of EFT. This method of payment was introduced in 2009 as a pilot scheme involving the four Dublin Local Authorities to make payments of maintenance grants directly to Students by way of Electronic Fund Transfer (EFT). The project was highly successful. This project was undertaken with the full backing of Colleges and Students Unions.

Freedom of Information

In 2010 SDCC received 46 Freedom of Information requests. This compares to a total of 59 FOI requests in 2009. Of these 46 requests 93% were granted or part granted. Enquiries received were mainly for our Housing and Planning Departments. Of the 46 enquiries received 10 of these requests came from Journalists and 22 came from Clients/Customers of the Council.

Reform of Procurement Policy

Extensive work was undertaken during 2010 on updating the Council's procurement procedures manual. Advances were also made in modernizing and updating the internal purchasing limits. Information meetings on the rollout of the procedures and limits will be rolled out during 2011.

Training and up-skilling in procurement efficiencies continued during the year. A key group of procurement staff received tailored in-house training by external procurement consultants and further similar training is scheduled for 2011 on European and national procurement regulations. This training will be focused on the needs of procurement staff and ensures that the organization is equipped with the skills and tools to award contracts in a compliant manner with particular emphasis on best practice and value for money.

Internal Audit & Efficiency Unit

A key element of corporate governance is the control environment and the control framework within which the organisation operates. During 2010 Internal Audit through its audit plan objectively examined and evaluated the effectiveness of controls in the organisation while promoting continuous improvement in relation to efficiency and effectiveness of operations and thereby contributing to the corporate governance framework in place in the organisation.

Within the criteria set out, audits were identified to provide maximum departmental coverage. Nine of the Council's thirteen departments were subject to at least one audit review.

An important measure of the effectiveness of Internal Audit is the acceptance and implementation by Management of recommendations made. All recommendations made were accepted by management.

Work was also carried out on the development of a risk register.

The unit aims to operate to a high quality standard by having regard to the Chartered Institute of Internal Auditors International Standards for the Professional Practice of Internal Auditing while carrying out its reviews.

Health and Safety

South Dublin County Council is committed to ensuring that all its services and operations are carried out and delivered, as far as possible, safely and without any risk to staff and members of the public. The Council has two professional Health and Safety Officers who deliver advice, train staff and carry out inspections and risk assessments. All the Council's workplaces have a separate Safety Statement which are reviewed regularly to take into account any changes to work practices, legislation and personnel.

A comprehensive programme of safety training is in place, to ensure staff are qualified and competent to work safely and the programme includes the FAS and FETEC national training requirements. In addition 2010 saw the commencement of training of South Dublin County Council staff as manual handling instructors. These trained instructors will be used regularly to deliver the manual handling course in-house to Council staff.

Customer Care

Customer Care Centres at Tallaght and Clondalkin continue to provide a frontline service in relation to all Council services. A highly qualified team provides informed and professional advice and work to the principles and response times set out in our Customer Charter. The staff has access to databases that in use throughout the Council. This enables them to deal with enquiries instantly for over 80% of our customers.

Often, it is customer care staff who first raise alerts and identify issues when they occur. Examples of this were difficulties experienced by customers due to extreme weather conditions in 2010, when roads and water supplies were affected. Reports of problem areas were reported directly to teams on the ground and feedback to customers provided by phone, email and web information postings gave relevant updates and timesframes for resolution.

Customer relationship management systems, developed in house, record customer enquiry information and allow fast access to back end data. Tracking and monitoring of these enquiries ensure quality and efficient service. In addition, statistics show continuous increase of enquiries year by year. 170,000 queries were resolved during 2010, this showed an increase of 20,000 over the previous year. Since 2009, emphasis has been on offering more choice to our customers, to access services, make payments, or request information using online services. There was increase of 20,165 online queries during 2010.

Customer Care also runs the payments office in Clondalkin Civic Centre, making it possible for customers to access the same services and information and also make payments on a variety of Council services. The footfall to this office is on average 2,000 customers a month. The Centre also provides accommodation to local organizations for meetings/public consultations. A nominal charge is made to cover security and utility costs.

Ongoing Customer surveys by the staff of the centre, provide information on service improvement but also give valuable feedback to the Councils training programme. In 2010, a training programme commenced with the aim of providing all Clerical Officers with frontline experience. This was well received by the 25 staff who had the opportunity to take part in the programme, 3 opted to remain in the section whilst the remainder provide back up on phones and front line during peak business if required.

Customer care and the Porter staff are also involved in monitoring post levels and ensuring discounts are availed of through An Post on bulk postings. In 2010, a saving of €14,000 was recorded on post presented for discount.

Telephony

Telephone communications is managed by Customer Care and Statistics generated by the system for resource management and departmental performance purposes. This enables managers to manage staff deployment. It also highlights recurring business issues allowing resolution of more common type of queries faster.

Major cost reductions have been achieved in the areas of mobile and landline business. Best deals in running cost and service delivery on the mobile phone account were sought by tender in 2010. In addition, the installation in 2010 of a Quintum box on the Councils PRA's has meant a 33% reduction of central landline bills.

2011 will see landline business being tendered through a central landline framework for Government Departments and Local Authorities agreed by the Department of Finance. It will also see the phone systems in Depots and other outlying Council buildings being centralized through the Councils main contact number to avail of cost savings and to allow business levels and trends to be mapped and reported on through the Customer Care centre.

Ethiopian Partnership Project

This is a joint project funded by Irish Aid (the overseas development arm of the Department of Foreign Affairs) and South Dublin County Council which partners the Council with two Ethiopian towns - Butajira and Werabe. In late 2007 a proposal was accepted by Irish Aid to grant-aid the project in the sum of €320,000 per annum over an initial period of 3 years. SDCC part funds the project (currently to the extent of €50,000 per annum) and both Ethiopian partners are committed to contributing an overall 15% of the total project expenditure supplemented in some cases by additional provision of local labour or materials.

The basis of our project is of building the capacity of the two town administrations through targeted training delivered by both SDCC staff and local management consultants coupled with the development of a 3-year rolling programme of infrastructural works and community development initiatives (based on locally determined priorities) which are aimed at building and consolidating a strong and sustainable base for both communities while at the same time building municipal capacity in the area of project and financial management, monitoring, evaluation and reporting. Connect Me

Connect Me continues to be the primary hub of publicly accessible spatial information. Corporate information such as planning applications and bin routes are amalgamated with business and community related information. The connect me system has now been deployed for the past 5 years and will during the course of 2011 be further updated. Our strategy in starting out to provide a one stop shop of publicly accessible information lends to an environment whereby we can update and enhance the user interface whilst maintaining the core and critical data infrastructure. Our spatial data team continues to manage the various data stores and provide regular updates. Connect me also allows our corporate data to be spatially referenced. To date it has been used effectively in mapping the activity of the council under the organisation change objective of data which is classified under the criterion of function, location, and activity date.

Human Resources Department

The Human Resources Department manages all Human Resource functions for our staff and throughout 2010 the department strove to address the ongoing staffing needs of the organisation in the face of the ongoing recruitment embargo and declining staff numbers.

Our focus on retention of staff, workforce planning, staff welfare, employee relations, training and development and management of benefit and entitlement schemes remained key activities of the department. The department were heavily involved in working with our Finance Department in seeking cost savings and payroll reductions through offering flexible working arrangements to staff as well as streamlining work practices.

The opportunities offered by the Public Service Agreement 2010 -2014 [Croke Park Agreement] to implement real and effective change led to the development of a Local Action Plan setting out change objectives and identifying cost savings where relevant. The headings set out under the PSA and reflected in the Local Action Plan are:

- Restructuring
- Shared Services
- Procurement
- eGovernment
- Productivity and Performance

Human Resources co-ordinated the compilation of the local action plan and continue in a co-ordinating role in terms of follow up scheduling of meetings /issuing of change proposals to staff unions. The first review of delivery of actions under the Local Action Plan as well as the various National Level Actions is due in March 2011.

The delivery of an Integrated Human Resource system through the implementation of CORE HR is at final stage. The Time and Attendance module went live in early 2011, the system offers us:

- Employee self service for leave, payroll and training functions. The issuing of payslips will be phased out by the Finance department arising from the implementation of this aspect of the system
- Workflow Management through the automation of business processes leading to better process control and improved efficiencies.
- Managing employee resources through capturing all relevant employee details in a live working environment
- Training management and profiling.
- CORE BI (Business Intelligence) reporting
- Health and Safety records
- Full Integration with payroll and pensions

An added significant benefit of the system is a comprehensive and integrated management reporting and analysis option.

The available budget for Staff Training was considerably reduced for 2010 but a corresponding reduction in costs from suppliers and greater competitiveness in the market place meant that a high level of training was delivered in the following areas:

Total of 341 training days were provided attended by 2536 staff.

Breakdown as follows:

- Health and Safety – 171 training days attended by 1186 staff
- IT – 11 training days attended by 64 staff
- Specialist training/ Personal Development/Management Skills/Customer Service – 159 training days attended by 1286 staff

Seven in-house staff undertook Train the Trainer programmes and are now fully trained to deliver VDU assessment and manual handling training programmes for staff.

Corporate and Mandatory training requirements were also addressed and delivered on to ensure ongoing up-skilling of staff and compliance with Health and Safety requirements. The CPD Licence requirement arose during the year and arrangement and support were put in place to train relevant staffs.

The retention of the Continuing Professional Development (CPD) accreditation was achieved in 2010. This continues to offer benefit for our engineering/technical staff and for the Human Resources Department. Retaining the accreditation will involve ongoing mentoring for staff, implementation of the CPD policy and centralised knowledge management through the Learning Circle. In addition seminars and information sharing sessions are arranged on a monthly basis. Ongoing rigorous annual audits will take place to ensure retention of the standard.

The Time & Attendance Unit monitor absenteeism through the year and employed a proactive approach to intervening with a view to minimise absenteeism levels.

Human Resource Service Indicators

In 2010 there were 2,543 days lost to USL and 13,998 Days lost to CSL.

The Service Indicator figures for 2010 for Uncertified Sick Leave was 0.81% and for Certified Sick Leave was 3.89%.

The department has applied best practice in this area for some time now and statistics compare favourably with National averages.

The services of two occupational health physicians are retained for staff referral in the management of absenteeism. The Staff Welfare service continues to provide discrete, confidential professional support to staff. It consists of two qualified staff welfare officers. During 2010, Staff Welfare delivered a Mindfulness program to staff which is based on the Mindfulness Based Stress Reduction Programme, this program has an evidence base which indicates that the practice is effective in managing stress more effectively.

The Pensions Unit which was established within the Human Resources Department in 2007 is continuing to operate very effectively. The unit provides an enhanced level of service on pension and retirement related matters. The Pensions Module of the core HR system became operation in 2009.

The Employee Relations Unit continue to maintain communication with the relevant trade unions on a regular basis on issues of concern and through the unit the Council is committed to utilising the industrial relations mechanisms available including the Rights Commissioner, the Labour Relations Commission and the Labour Court where necessary. With the advent of the Public Service Agreement, all change proposals are channelled through the ER unit and brought to meetings with relevant unions for discussion and agreement/referral. The process of referral is to the Local Government Implementation Body initially and onto the National Implementation body if necessary. Implementation of agreed National Level actions is communicated through the ER Unit on notification from the Local Government Management Services Board who are the co-ordinator for the sector.

The Partnership office continued with a programme of work and activities including services to retired staff, return to learning programmes, literacy programmes, staff newsletter and managed the CPC driver training programme fully. Partnership committee meetings made up of staff representatives and management met throughout the year and approved a number of new policies.

Law Department

The provision of legal services to the Council was again very broad ranging and challenging and 2010 was another very busy year in the Department. In addition to the existing cases already being handled by the Department approximately 2000 new instructions were received by the Department. Mr. John C Healy was appointed as the new Law Agent in September 2010

The Law Department continued to be proactive in the pursuit of prosecutions for Litter, Control of Dogs, Liquor Bye-Laws and Anti-Social Behaviour, Rent Arrears and collection of Rates. The Judicial Reviews of administrative decisions were also prevalent especially in the area of challenges in respect of Housing Matters. In addition the Law Department is engaged in re-establishing Court Services Committees on which members of the Law Department will sit, which will assist in maintaining good work practices between the Courts Services and the Law Department.

While there has been a slow down in conveyancing generally in the legal profession, the Law Department continued to experience an increase in the transfer of voluntary housing to voluntary organisations and matters pertaining to the provision of grants, funded by the Minister for Arts, Sports & Tourism to local sporting clubs.

Finally, the adoption by the Law Department of e-stamping and e-direct means that applications for the registration of property may now be submitted on-line.

Information Technology Department

Information Systems

The impact of the Web

Behind organisational change in South Dublin County Council there is a core belief that information should be easy to find and interpret. It should be relevant to the customer's business. It should be interlinked as appropriate with other relevant data. And information should be in its dynamic and electronic form. Thus, the internet continues to be a critical resource for the Council to harness to the fullest of its extents. It is cost effective to communicate with the staff, the elected member, and customers of the organisation.

In particular, we measure 3 critical components - the number of page views, the number of unique users which have availed of our services and the number of user sessions which have been availed of.

Page views represent how many times a certain page is accessed during a specific period and is measured using the definition of page impressions provided by IFABC Global Web Standards ie. a file or a combination of files sent to a user as a result of that user's request being received by the server. A valid User visiting a page on the website results in one page view.

The graph below represents the 3 year comparison 2008, 2009, and 2010.

The 2010 results fare exceptionally well and demonstrate the ability of the web to respond to the dynamic changing needs of the environment in which we work in. In total during 2008 the Council's web services delivered 4,714,836 pages of information to our customers. In 2009 we delivered 5,490,505 pages and in 2010, the Council's web systems (recorded) delivered a staggering 8,781,041 pages of information.

Unique Users

Unique user measurement represents the total number of unique users who have visited the site during a reported period. The definition of unique users used by our analysis system is based on the definition set by IFABC Global Web Standards being the the total sum of all unique users visiting the site during a specific period (new visitors + returning visitors).

The chart below demonstrates the trends in unique users over the period 2008 - 2010.

In 2008, a total of 498,098 unique users availed of information and services from South Dublin County Council's web systems. 2009 exceeded these values to amount to some 608,095. The trend has continued into 2010 with a total number of unique users being 1,130,887.

User Sessions

The other statistic which is particularly useful is the user sessions which tells us the number of times that users visit the web services which we offer - Its definition is the presence of a visitor with a specific 'cookie' (technical term for an identifier) who has not visited the site within the past 30 minutes. So a visitor who visits one of our web sites at 9 o'clock and then again at 11 o'clock counts as two user sessions i.e. they have been to the site on two occasions to request information from it.

Once again we see a very strong comparative performance in terms of user sessions over the years shown. In 2008, the total number of sessions amounted to 906,180 and slightly increased in 2009 to 1,080,809. However, 2010 has seen a dramatic increase to 1,946,026 user sessions for the period to the end of November.

The statistics presented demonstrate capacity and capability of the council to respond to the needs of its customer base. A continuous increase in the levels reported are encouraging but don't necessarily mean success of the particular service. Moreover, the ability of our systems to deliver 7.6 million pages, to almost 1 million users, over 1.6million user sessions demonstrates the value of providing information and services in this manner.

On-line Customer Interaction

Integrated applications and services for social network computing, including RSS feeds, wikis, blogs, twitter, facebook, web conferencing and other social networks are joining the toolbox of collaboration tools available to the Council to interact with the public, as they become more secure and manageable within our organisation. The use of such tools by the citizen is growing rapidly and the Council will continue to embrace such new methods of engaging with our customers.

Adapting to Change

Transformational changes such as 'Web 2.0' and 'Cloud Computing' are challenging traditional technology architectures and the need for ever increasing organisational productivity has led South Dublin County Council to investigate and implement the benefits cloud computing in the form of virtualisation and consolidation. Cloud services have also afforded the Council a more flexible way to grow and operate. The convergence of these trends has forced a radical change in the way technology is deployed.

Research and development by the Information Technology Department in the past year are reducing the cost associated with managing and operating technology across the entire organization. We use newly created capacity to drive innovation and creativity within the Council. New media affords the Council the ability to respond and adapt quickly to change and improve service delivery quality. It offers many benefits to South Dublin County Council into 2011 and beyond.

The rapid pace of social, political and technological change means that the public sector organisation of the future will need to be more citizen-focused, more in touch and smarter in its use of technology. South Dublin County Council will continue to implement flexible technology solutions to quickly embrace, adapt and support the challenges of the changing financial landscape and increasing expectations – this for better service delivery and quality customer services.

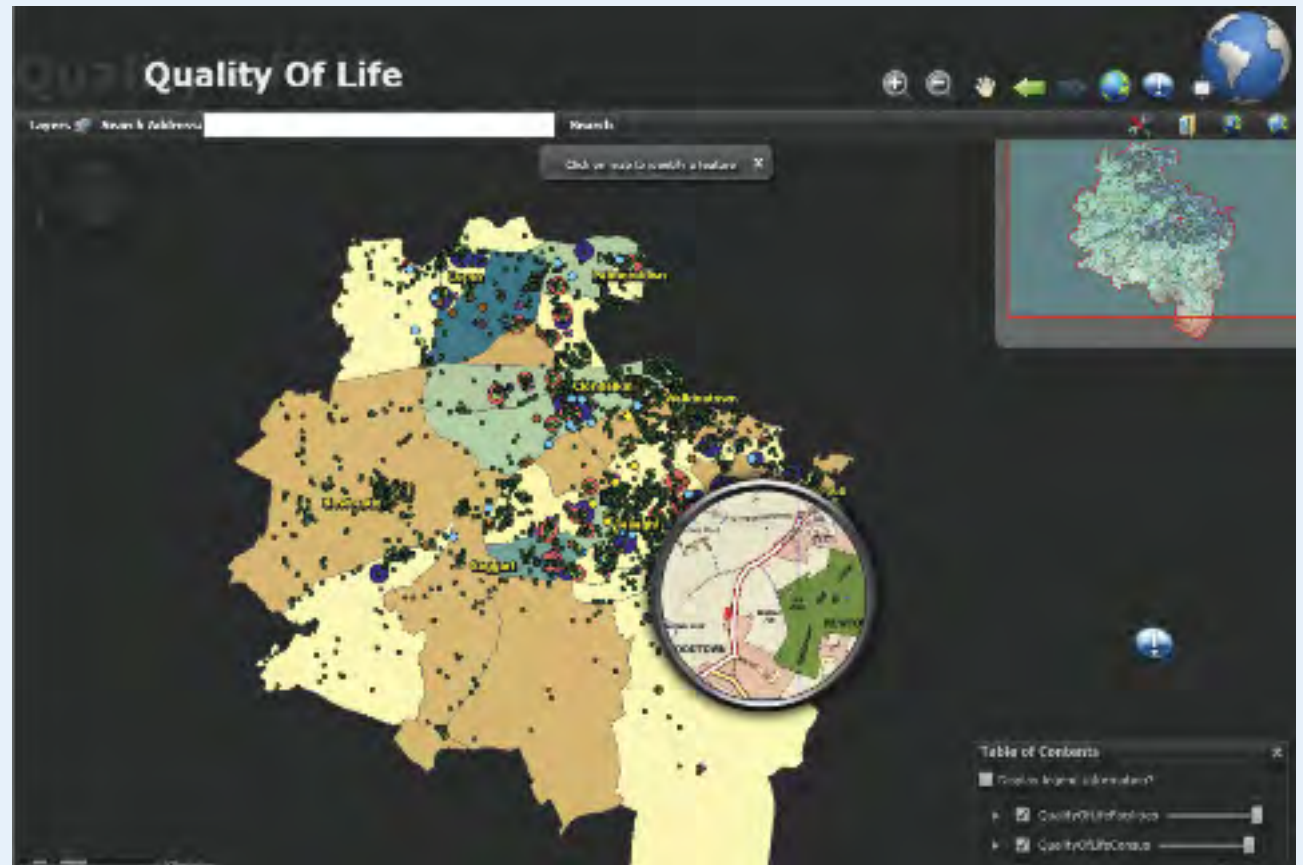

Cloud Computing

By updating our technological environment to on premise and SaaS (software as a service) cloud solutions with archiving during 2011, South Dublin County Council will provide its staff, the elected members, and its customers with secure and reliable information technology provided services. Such services can be accessed in the office, at home or while travelling which enhances flexibility, productivity and customer service. The converse side of this strategy is that we reduce the cost of on-premise traditional systems deployment and their management and security.

Cloud and web-based applications, solutions and services will empower our staff to share critical information and serve our customers more efficiently. We will continue to explore a range of collaboration tools, allowing users to work securely from wherever they might be. Cloud computing will be a paradigm shift in how we architect and deliver highly scalable corporate applications.

Infrastructure Consolidation & Virtualisation

South Dublin County Council's I.T. Department has embarked on the virtualisation and consolidation of its Data Centre to address these issues. Flexibility, manageability and performance will be greatly improved and as a result the ongoing cost of administering and supporting our server infrastructure will be significantly reduced. A new off-site disaster recovery facility will also be commissioned during 2011 which will provide full failover and resilience for critical corporate systems. The server footprint has already been reduced by approximately 65% with further consolidation scheduled for early 2011. These initiatives significantly impact on the power consumption by such parts of the infrastructure.

Interconnected & Spatial Data

We continue to responsibly connect and share relevant datasets. Where appropriate and taking data protection into consideration the Council may collaborate on a shared protocol basis with partner agencies in carrying out our statutory obligations - this in respect of the planning, delivery and management of efficient, effective and equitable public services. This approach will result in providing an integrated and seamless delivery of services in line with our policies, government initiatives and public expectations. It will also support a proactive problem solving approach to improve community life for the citizens of South Dublin County. All of this is predicated on strong and proactive understanding and implementation of our data protection obligations. Below is a screenshot of the Council's Quality of Life Viewer which is a web-based GIS application for mapping broad based trends using South Dublin County Council's own data, Census data and data from partner agencies.

By continuing to expand and further develop our use of GIS technologies, we aim to provide definitive baseline data which will facilitate on-going mapping, demonstrating significant shifts in trends in terms of citizens' experiences of living in the county. The technical specification will enable the data to be shared across the organisation and ultimately, through the use of secure 'extranets', shared with partner organisations, and the public, as appropriate. Once again, all of this activity is predicated on strong and proactive understanding and implementation of our data protection obligations.

Such projects are underpinned by the principles of organisation change;

- Browser-ability
- Function/Location and Activity Date
- Electronic Document Management, and
- Interconnected Data.

Finance

The Finance Department is responsible for the financial operations in the Council and in particular ensures that adequate arrangements are in place to finance revenue and capital activity. The Finance Team

The operational plan for the Finance Department included the following objectives in 2010:

- The timely preparation of the 2010 Annual Financial Statement in the standard format specified by the Department of the Environment, Community and Local Government and in accordance with Local Authority Accounting in Ireland, Code of Practice and Accounting Regulations
- To liaise with the Department of the Environment, Community and Local Government and provide financial and non-financial information as required
- To monitor, control and report the council's activities in the context of EU/IMF financial requirements and the General Government balance (GGB).
- To prepare the Annual Budget 2011 in accordance with the Local Government Act 2001 and the Local Government (Financial Procedures and Audit) Regulations 2002
- To manage cashflow so that funding is available as required for day-to-day expenditure on the Revenue and Capital Accounts and investment opportunities are maximised.
- To liaise with the Department of the Environment, Community and Local Government when opportune to maximise allocations from the Local Government Fund and other state funds
- To manage, maintain and develop the Agresso Financial Management System

Annual Financial Statement

The Annual Financial Statement 2009 was presented in a web enabled format to the Members at the July 2010 council meeting and subsequently submitted to the Department of the Environment, Community, and Local Government. The 2009 audit opinion and report were considered by the members in committee in January 2011 and noted by members at the February 2011 council meeting.

Annual Budget

The Annual Budget for 2011 - prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Local Government Act, 2001, and the Local Government (Financial Procedures and Audit) Regulations 2002 - was adopted by the Council on 21st December 2010.

Commercial Rates

Income from commercial rates was €124,313,660 for 2010. The total collected during 2010 was €112,063,348 leaving arrears of €27,360,625 for collection at year end. The 80.4% collection for this income source in 2010 was consistent with the national trend and reflected the difficult economic climate for business and business dependant incomes.

Entry Year Property Levy (PEL)

Entry year property levies of €506,606 were billed in 2010 for newly constructed properties. The collection from this source was €698,539 representing 63% of the total to be collected in 2010.

Non Domestic Water Charges

The total value of water bills issued for 2010 was €7,587,331 and cash collection was €7,703,925.

Non Principal Private Residence Charge (NPPR)

The Local Government (Charges) Act 2009 introduced a €200 annual charge for Non-Principal Private Residences. The €200 charge is payable to the local authority in whose area the Non-Principal Private Residence is located. The charge is self-assessed and owners are obliged to register the property and pay the charge. The legislation also provides for the imposition of late payment penalties which accumulate monthly once the charge is overdue.

The amount collected in 2010 in respect of the NPPR Charge was €2,389,622.

VAT

A significant change to VAT legislation for public bodies was introduced on 1 July 2010 which resulted in the charges for a range of services becoming subject to VAT. A full review of services was carried out to identify income sources affected by the VAT changes. Procedures were then put in place to include VAT in qualifying incomes, identify VAT related expenditure and report to the Revenue Commissioners. Software was developed, tested and implemented to facilitate VAT reporting.

European Communities

(Late Payment in Commercial transactions) Regulations 2002
EU Regulations governing late payment of commercial transactions were enforced with effect from 7 August 2002. These Regulations partially replace the Prompt Payment of Accounts Act 1997, and provide that interest, if greater than €5, be paid where an invoice remains unpaid for more than 30 days. The total amount of interest paid in 2010 was €3,174.60
