Shared Reading Group

- A friendly trained leader provides a warm welcome and the text of something specially chosen to read. This may be a poem or a story.
- Group members join in the reading and the conversation, or just simply sit back and listen.
- Reading the literature aloud in real-time, means that everyone is involved in a shared, live experience
- The Reader Leader encourages group members to respond personally, sharing feelings, thoughts and memories inspired by the reading.
- Everyone experiences the text in their own way, but the literature provides a shared language that can help us to understand ourselves and others better.
- There's no right or wrong way to enjoy Shared Reading, or pressure to attend every session.

Local History
 Look back at history and on your own community to better understand today. See the bigger picture by first exploring what's local

Economics
 Find out where money comes from, where it goes and how we make choices to get what we want. Learn about real economy and what this means for us

Psychology
 Delve into the world of human behaviour and explore the workings of the mind to understand why we act, think and feel the way we do

Sociology
 Reflect on social groups and their interactions. Look at the social causes of issues such as shared beliefs, social class, race division, social stability and crime

10-12.30
