"I Could Be" Campaign Exhibition

County Library, Library Square, Tallaght

The 'I Could Be' Campaign by The Down Syndrome Centre will be available to all to view as part of Social Inclusion Festival 2021.

'I Could Be' is about supporting a brighter future for people with Down Syndrome.

The campaign aims to promote the message that while people with Down Syndrome need additional supports, they have innate potential, skills, talents, and unique perspectives to bring to society and to a chosen profession.

The Down Syndrome Centre is delighted to bring the campaign to South Dublin County Council's Social Inclusion Festival 2021.

The exhibition will be on display in County Library, Tallaght from Monday 15th November - Saturday 20th November.

The Down Syndrome Centre provides services and supports to enable children with Down Syndrome to have the same opportunities in life as their peers and to reach their full potential.

Help us spread this positive #ICouldBe message by taking a photo of the exhibition and sharing on social media.

#CURIOUSBEGINNINGS

11.00 am and 7.00 pm - ReCreate Ireland / Online

A day long #curiousbeginnings experience with ReCreate Ireland.
Researcher and author Todd Kashdan says that 'curiosity is the missing ingredient to living a fulfilling life'. We couldn't agree more. At ReCreate, we believe that the art of curiosity is a skill that should (and can) be harnessed and developed in each human being. Being curious is about asking 'why', taking risks, trying new things, connecting in new ways and being open to change.

For Social Inclusion Festival 2021, we will be creatively 'experimenting' with the people of South Dublin, over the course of 1 day.
Curious enough to join us?

In-person workshop will take place at 11.00 am at ReCreate Ireland, Ballymount.

Online evening workshops will take place at 7.00 pm via Zoom.

Together in Nature

10.30 am - Meeting at Threshold Training Network to go to garden Together in Nature - Based on the Japanese practice of Shinrin yokuforest bathing, participants will be brought on a guided walk in the woods, exploring and experiencing connections with nature. The word 'bathing' is used because during the walk your senses (touch, hearing, smelling, seeing and tasting) will be bathing in nature. This practice done on a regular basis promotes relaxation and stress reduction. The experience is enhanced by doing it with others and sharing feedback. It is both a gentle exercise and gentle practice, all parts of the workshop are by invitation. When you rediscover the joys of being in nature, you can sense you are a part of something, you are not on your own.

As Emily Bronte said 'Every leaf speaks bliss to me'.

OTHER EVENTS TAKING PLACE DURING THE FESTIVAL

Lives on the Line, Staying Connected through The Arts Saturday 24th November - 3.00 pm - 4.30 pm County Library, Tallaght

'Lives on the Line' sets out to show how one single line created another and eventually, grew into a fully fledged work. In the same way that casting on a row of stitches soon builds up to a garment or making that first mark on the canvas creates the possibility of an image. Whenever we plant a seed, we hope a flower will bloom. So it is with art and staying connected in our community through art. Putting down a 'line' or 'taking a line for a walk' is like placing one foot before the other. Soon, so much ground is covered. A happy, healthy creative life improves our mental health and makes for richer community living.

'Lives on the Line' limited edition book will be available at the workshop, free to contributors. 'Lives on the Line' is open to everyone, all welcome. Refreshments available.

This online community nutrition and cooking programme has been developed by HSE Dietitians. Local people have been trained to deliver the course in their community.

Sessions include group discussions, quizzes, activities and videos to support learning. Participants will be encouraged to shop for a chosen recipe and cook at the session each week.

Participants will need access to a tablet, laptop, smart phone or desktop and an
