Message from Mayor Vicki Casserly

"Cuireann sé ríméad orm Clár Chontae Átha Cliath Theas do Sheachtain Náisiúnta na hInrochtaineachta 2019 a chur os bhur gcomhair. Ba mhaith liom aitheantas a thabhairt do na gníomhaireachtaí agus na heagraíochtaí go léir a chomhoibriú le chéile chun an inrochtaineacht a cheiliúradh ar fud an Chontae. Mo bhuíochas libh.

Bunriachtanas is ea an rochtain uilíoch má tá faoi phobail bhríomhara leanúint orthu ag fás agus a bheith inmharthana. Tá Comhairle Contae Átha Cliath Theas tiomanta don chomhionannas, don chuimsiú agus d'áiseanna agus seirbhísí a mbeidh teacht ag gach duine orthu a sholáthar.

Tá dúshlán ó thaobh daonra agus déimeagrafaice de roimh ár gContae, ach tá an Chomhairle trí bhíthin a foirne, a Comhairleoirí agus a grúpaí gaolmhara, tiomanta do chlár oibre na rochtana. I mo cháil dom mar Mhéara bhuaill mé le líon áirithe grúpaí ar chás leo an inrochtaineacht agus tuigim a thábhachtaí is atá na hearnálacha deonacha agus pobail maidir le soláthar seirbhísí agus áiseanna, bunaithe ar chearta, a chur chun cinn.

Mholfainn do gach duine a bheith páirteach sna himeachtaí atá leagtha amach agus a gcion a dhéanamh ionas go n-éireoidh go seoigh le Seachtain Náisiúnta na hInrochtaineachta 2019".

"I am delighted to introduce South Dublin County's National Accessibility Week Programme 2019. I would like to acknowledge and thank all the agencies and organisations who have collaborated to celebrate accessibility throughout the County.

Universal access is essential for the continued growth and sustainability of vibrant communities. South Dublin County Council is strongly committed to equality, inclusion and providing facilities and services that are accessible to all.

I would encourage everyone to get involved in the planned activities and to help make National Accessibility Week 2019 a success".

National Accessibility Week 2019 will take place from Monday, 25 November. The week-long campaign will coincide with International Day of Disabled Persons which occurs each year on the 3rd December. National Accessibility Week (led by local authorities across the country), is an important opportunity to encourage all people to focus on issues of accessibility and universal design.

National Accessibility Week (led by local authorities across the country), is an important opportunity to encourage all people to focus on issues of accessibility and universal design. The Week provides Councils, businesses, community groups and so on with a valuable opportunity to highlight the accessibility of their facilities and services. A range of events will take place, and social media will be used to encourage wider society to be more inclusive of the varied access needs of disabled people of all ages.

Inclusive Playspaces Seminar and Launch of Video

The purpose of this seminar is to share what South Dublin County Council (SDCC) has learned about universal design over the past five years developing accessible, inclusive playspaces for children of all abilities. Councils have a variety of policy and legislative responsibilities with regard to providing accessible facilities and services to all disabled people. In order to meet these responsibilities and commitments South Dublin County Council developed a playspace design programme with accessibility as a core aim.

Mayor of South Dublin County, Councillor Vicki Casserly will open the seminar.

The keynote speaker will be David Coleman (Clinical Psychologist, TV and Radio Broadcaster, Author and Columnist). Presentations will also be made by Laurence Colleran, SDCC Senior Executive Parks Superintendent, and SDCC Chief Executive Daniel McLoughlin.

Visit Rathfarnham Castle

Enjoy a guided tour of Rathfarnham Castle. The Castle is fully accessible and Irish Sign Language (ISL) interpretation will be provided for the tour.

Rathfarnham Castle began life as the semi-fortified residence of the Archbishop-Chancellor of Ireland, Adam Loftus, in the late sixteenth century. It was transformed into a fashionable Georgian country villa by his descendants two hundred years later. For much of the twentieth century Rathfarnham Castle was an austere Jesuit residence before coming into State care.

Venue: Rathfarnham Castle, Rathfarnham, D14 K3T6.

Additional Events and Exhibitions taking place during National Accessibility Week

Cartoon Exhibition highlighting the often ironic side to accessibility

Johnny Connaughton is a freelance Graphic Designer and Cartoonist living in Dublin. He has worked in advertising agencies and design consultancies in Dublin, London and South East Asia. His cartoons on disability try to get across the situations and issues faced by people in a light-hearted way while still getting the message across. If it's funny you're quicker to read it and remember it! Our thanks to Spoke Out Magazine for the use of some images which were originally published in their magazine.

South Dublin Libraries

South Dublin Libraries currently have six Branch Libraries, with two new libraries coming in 2020 at Castletymon and North Clondalkin. There is also an extensive Mobile Library Service. In 2018, almost one million visitors were welcomed through the doors of our libraries. Over one million items were borrowed including eBooks, eAudio and eMagazines. Over 300,000 Wi-Fi and computer sessions were availed of.

Literacy, Information and Lifelong Learning, Culture and Creativity programmes are run throughout the year and are open to everyone. Each of our libraries run free Computer and Language classes – contact your local library for details. There is the option to learn a new skill or study something new through our online learning resource – Universal Class.

Our mission in South Dublin Libraries is to enrich the quality of life by promoting access to a broad range of knowledge, information, technology, culture and heritage, in a welcoming, inclusive and supportive way.

National Accessibility Week 2019 - Celebrating Accessible South Dublin County is made possible with the support and participation of the following agencies and venues:

South Dublin County Council has a Disability Liaison, Access and Equality Officer. Selina Bonnie is available to help you with any questions you might have, or assistance you may require, in relation to the accessibility of information and services provided by the Council.
