

Early Years Irish Language Arts Commission 2023

A Collaboration between Creative Ireland South Dublin, South Dublin Arts Office, Áras Chrónáin, and Naíonra Chrónáin

Introduction

The Creative Ireland South Dublin programme wishes to commission an Early Years Irish Language artwork. This commission will be delivered in collaboration with children from Naíonra Chrónáin located on the grounds of Áras Chrónáin in Clondalkin.

Áras Chrónáin, Irish Cultural Centre is a unique oasis of vibrant Irish Language, Music, Song, Dance and Culture experienced and enjoyed by young and old from every walk of life. Áras Chrónáin Irish Cultural Centre is located in a magnificent Georgian house on 2.9 acres in a wonderful, picturesque surroundings right in the heart of old Clondalkin village. In outdoor play and work to provide children with opportunities to learn and develop through play. The Irish language and Irish culture hold a special place in the cultural tapestry that makes up South Dublin County with Áras Chrónáin in Clondalkin Village serving as a cultural hub for spoken Irish, and for all aspects of Irish culture. For further information please see www.araschronain.ie

Naíonra Chrónáin, located on the grounds of Áras Chrónáin, keep up to date with early years research and always ensure that the children are provided the highest quality Early Years Care and Education. There is a strong belief in outdoor play and work to provide children with opportunities to learn and develop through play.

What are we looking for?

We are looking for individuals, collectives, organisations or companies to develop exciting and ambitious new artistic work for an early childhood audience where the Irish language is a focal point. The commission is open to any art form.

The expectations of the commission are:

1. Early Years children (0-6years) will be engaged with the creation process of the work and their voice will lead the way
2. Close collaboration with the teachers at Naíonra Chrónáin to create artwork that could be a model for other Early Years facilities, while remaining feasible for the space of the Naíonra.
3. The duration of the commission will be discussed with the awarded creative (s) but likely duration is one year.

Objectives

- Develop process to work with young children in project creation
- Create a model for other educators and practitioners to work in Early Years Arts and Irish Language
- Create a participant-led piece of work
- Generate advocacy in early childhood arts and the Irish language

Our objectives are based on the values of the Creative Ireland South Dublin Programme:

- Reflection and Enquiry
- Open Exchange
- Public Engagement
- Sustainability
