Shooting for the Stars: My Journey to become Ireland's first astronaut with Norah Patton

Saturday 16th November 10am

Age 8+. In 2017, Dr. Norah Patten, from Ballina in Co. Mayo, was one of 12 participants from around the world selected to take part in a unique scientist-astronaut training programme, Project possum. She is now on course to become Ireland's first ever astronaut! Meet Norah here in the library and learn about space travel, astronaut training and life without gravity. Norah will answer those all-important questions such as: how long does it take to become an astronaut and where exactly astronauts go to the toilet? Most importantly she'll talk about the importance of following your dreams - no matter how big.

Booking essential on www.talib.eventbrite.com from 10.00am Monday 4th November
