HERITAGE WEEK: DOWN BY THE PODDLE - A TALK WITH HISTORIAN CATHY SCUFFIL

Wednesday 21st August @ 6.30pm

The secrets the river Poddle holds are key to understanding the basic foundations of the City of Dublin. This river of many names, mostly flowing underground, out of sight and often forgotten, has borne witness to all the key events of our shared history. It creates estate and parish boundaries, illustrates how skilled our Medieval ancestors were at hydro-engineering, it protected our city and citizens from invasion and most importantly provided water for Dublin's thirsty citizens. It was also a source of power for mills and industry. Not surprisingly, the river is celebrated in folklore and song. Join Historian, Cathy Scuffil for a journey along this river as she highlights the elements of the river Poddle's history that hide in plain sight.

Booking from Mon 5th August @ 10am
