

Mini-Woodland

It is based on the Miyawaki method with growth expected to be 10x faster than traditional woodland planting

It will create areas of high biodiversity and act as stepping stones for wildlife to move through the landscape

Using 31 native species it is designed to mimic a natural habitat with a canopy layer, shrub layers & ground layer

Mini-Woodlands can store up to 40 times more carbon than single species plantations

Miyawaki Forest Concept

